

ESTIMATES NOW CONFIRM FEWER THAN 500 DEATHS

DEATH LIST DECREASES AFTER INVESTIGATION OF CONDITIONS IN FLOOD SWEEP DISTRICT

Revised Reports Indicate That Number of Drowned in Dayton May Not Exceed 150---Rapid Rise of Ohio and Mississippi Rivers Cause Much Alarm But No Danger to People Living Along Their Banks---Waters Recede From Dayton, Columbus and Other Places.

Investigations yesterday tended to confirm the estimates of fewer than 500 deaths in the floods that swept over a score of cities in Ohio and Indiana last week. As the waters receded from Dayton, Columbus and other places, leaving a thick coating of mud, alarm was aroused by a rapid rise of the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers, inundating parts of cities along their banks. There is not much danger of loss of life in these places, however, as the inhabitants have hills to flee to and are used to floods.

Revised reports indicate that the number drowned in Dayton may not exceed 150 although there are those who say the number will be much greater. The death list at Piqua, Ohio, fell from the estimate of 50 to 12 known dead.

DAYTON, O., MARCH 29.—The work of rehabilitation began here today as the work of rescue approached its end. The weather showed improvement as viewed by refugees, for it was warmer and pleasant to frost and water-chilled bones but the sanitary experts accepted the rise in temperature with mixed feelings for the cold had retarded the decomposition of animal matter and refuse.

Garrison Views City.
Secretary of War Garrison conferred with various officials and heads of committees wired President Wilson that the death list would not reach 500 and otherwise epitomized the situation and departed for Cincinnati after a brief view of the city from an automobile. It is probable that he will go to Columbus tomorrow.

W. E. Blackwell in charge of morgues, estimates the dead at 250.

Dangers of Water Famine.
Members of the Citizens' Relief committee are apprehensive of a water famine. It is believed there is little chance that the present supply can be made to last until the water mains are in use again. R. H. Grant, head for the relief supplies committee tonight issued appeals to all cities in the country asking that as much bottled water as possible be shipped to Dayton immediately. It is especially desired that the water be strictly pure as it is practically impossible to boil the water for drinking purposes.

Medical supplies were reported woefully short by Major T. V. Dupuy, who is in charge of sanitary work.

Undertakers Are Busy.
The activity of certain local undertakers called forth the wrath of Major Dupuy who issued a statement in which he called them "ghouls" for their feverish activity in seeking bodies, and it is alleged sometimes burying them without making report to the authorities.

He declared that they were "trying to work a holdup game on helpless friends and relatives of those who have lost their lives."

Many Are Still Buried.
The majority of the bodies of flood victims will be found buried under the debris in the Miami canal under great piles of wreckage and far down the Miami river, at Miamisburg, Middletown and Hamilton, in the opinion of men who have examined the ground.

Few people were caught in their homes as most of them had received sufficient warning of the approaching disaster to enable them to get out before the flood assumed dangerous proportions. Those who were drowned for the most part were caught in the streets either while on their way to places of business and employment or while trying to get other places of safety when forced to flee from their homes.

Find Bodies in Wreckage.
Lieut. Letherman, surgeon of the Third Regiment, O. N. G., who went through the flood in West Dayton said that he saw scores of bodies floating down the Miami river and many people were swimming, but there was not one chance in ten thousand that these were saved, he said. The water was icy cold and the current terrific. In one district it was stated at sanitary department headquarters, that dozens of bodies could be seen under piles of wreckage, here a hand and there a foot sticking out from under the debris. Efforts were directed to get at these bodies but none had been taken out when night fell.

First Aid to Marooned.
The work of extending succor to the marooned inhabitants of the districts which still are flooded continued during the day. In many sections were to be seen rowboats, skiffs, and canoes, making their way with extreme difficulty among the heaps of wreckage and overturned houses, among angled meshes of telegraph, and telephone, and electric light wires, seeking out possible victims who had been organized engaged in rescue work is the company of naval reserves from the United States Ship Essex. The company reached Dayton on a special relief train from Toledo Thursday and immediately launched a number of boats. Up to six o'clock tonight the sailors had been constantly on duty and had to their credit a total of 979 lives saved and they were not thinking of sleep when darkness fell.

Crew Rescued 375 Persons.
One crew in command of Ensign E. E. Diehl, with two boats, rescued 375 persons. Many of the people were taken from their homes only after the sailors had mounted to the tops of partially overturned houses and chopped their way through to the attics where the inmates were huddled together.

Another crew under Junior Lieutenant Ross Wilcox, succeeded in saving 360, while three boats in command of Senior Lieutenant Theodore Schmidt, rescued 244.

Several times the sailors were capsize and right them again. Not a single life was lost either among the reserves or among the hundreds whom they attempted to rescue.

Establish Supply Station.
While sailors worked incessantly to save lives Lieut. Walter Gayhart, also of the ship's company, succeeded in establishing a supply station in East Fifth street where many refugees congregated and issued rations. He slept tonight after 71 hours of continuous labor. Only those doing relief work or having official business were allowed out of doors after six o'clock tonight. With the additional military force which arrived the city was thoroughly policed. Even with the careful policing during the last few nights some robbing had been done.

Major Dupuy is angered at certain undertakers and expresses it in the following statement:

"These body snatching ghouls who operate as undertakers will be treated as they deserve if it takes the entire military power at the command of the medical department of the O. N. G. There are a number of reliable undertakers in Dayton who have complied strictly with the order to report the recovery of all bodies but there have been reports received here of numerous instances of undertakers grabbing bodies and rushing them to their own establishments. Then they either prey upon the grief stricken relatives or the public will have to pay for the burial of the unidentified dead."

"All medical and military officers have received orders to promptly arrest any undertaker or other persons who recovers a body and does not immediately report it to this department."

"It was said at military headquarters that a total of only forty-six bodies was reported up to this evening although it was known that no less than 122 bodies had been taken to different morgues and to private homes. This was ascertained by a computation of the returns made by different rescuing squads engaged in the flooded districts."

Fears Epidemic of Diseases.
Major Deputy fears an epidemic of diseases and says that already there are many sick. The city has been divided into six sanitary districts, each district in charge of an officer of the sanitary corps of the national guard.

A small army of sanitary inspectors has been pressed into service and every effort will be made to prevent any outbreak of a pestilence.

Arrangements for placing sanitary measures in the hands of federal officials were completed at the conference between Secretary of War Garrison, Major General Leonard Wood Surgeon General Rupert Blue and the local relief committee headed by John H. Patterson. After Secretary Garrison with Governor Cox he decided that while the state militia would be able to police the city, the federal government should have charge of the sanitation.

Mr. Garrison stated that Major Thomas Rhoades, in co-operation with Major James C. Normoye had charge in Dayton, Major Normoye had experience in furthering relief in the Mississippi flood last year.

Sends Word to Wilson.
Secretary Garrison gave out the substance of his telegram to President Wilson as follows:

"I find the situation at Dayton to be as follows: 'The flood has subsided so that they have communication with all parts of the city, no one being now in any position of peril or without food or shelter. The National Cash Register plant has been turned into a supply depot and lodging place for those who have no other present place.'

"Surgeon General Blue and some of his officers are here as are also some naval surgeons. We are all working in concert. The governor, the mayor, the local committees, and the citizens, have all expressed much gratitude at the action of the national government and have welcomed us warmly, all of them stating that the fact that a direct representative has been sent to their community has been of the greatest benefit to the moral of the city."

Forces Well Organized.
"I find a competent force is already organized to clean up the streets, remove the debris, and to do general work of that description and have agreed to work under the army surgeon. I leave in charge of sanitation. The national guards have their adjutant general, George H. Wood here in command of the military situation and he has cordially offered to co-operate in every way with our work of sanitation."

"I think that the situation here is very satisfactory and that this community will find itself in a reassured position within a very short time and facing only then the problem of repair, restoration and rehabilitation."

Will Return to Cincinnati.
"I will go back to Cincinnati tonight to get into touch with matters left unfinished there and will go to Columbus at the earliest moment. Governor Cox tells me that he thinks matters are in a satisfactory condition at Columbus that he has ample immediate supply of medicines and other necessities and that much of each is on the way. The weather is very fine and there does not seem to be any cause of apprehension of further floods in the vicinity of Dayton."

Committee Feeds 15,000.
Fifteen thousand persons subsisted today on rations given out under direction of the relief committee. Ten thousand of these it is estimated were in their homes, and food was carried to them in boats and automobiles. About five thousand are being cared for at the relief stations. This shows a marked reduction in the number of persons being publicly fed.

There is plenty of food and it is being placed in baskets in lots to serve five persons for two days. Over candles, given out with food, the people are cooking coffee, but the other food is eaten cold. There is no gas and very little coal. There is no gas and very little coal.

PIQUA IS RECOVERING FROM EFFECT OF FLOOD

EAST PIQUA PRESENTS A TANGLE OF DEMOLISHED HOUSES

Relief Committee is Working to Care For the 2500 Homeless Ones and to Recover Bodies of Those Drowned—Flood District Patrolled by Militia.

PIQUA, O., MARCH 29.—Piqua is recovering from the flood which cost twenty lives and hundreds of thousands of dollars property damage. West of Main street the town is again normal, but East Piqua, a residence district around which the Miami river curves and over which the flood waters surged, is a tangle of demolished houses.

In Shawnee at the southern edge of the city fully fifteen houses were swept off their foundations and are visible above the receding water.

The volunteer relief committee is working day and night to care for the 2,500 homeless ones and to find the bodies of those drowned. The list of missing has been checked again and again and those in charge today said that at the outside not more than fifty were drowned.

The Identified Dead.
The recovered dead are: Albert Decker, Elizabeth Cruz, Mrs. Caroline Dillon, James Gillard, Mrs. Louise Holdendorf, Isaac Karns, Mrs. George Schlosser, George Suble, Miss Eva Thomas, J. C. Ward, Mrs. Sarah Wolfert, C. B. Jamison, John Reiber.

Many Deeds of Heroism.
Deeds of heroism were frequent and one of the most influential citizens, Attorney Clark B. Jamison, was drowned while seeking to save a child from a house in the center of East Piqua. His body was found today by A. W. Dewese of the rescue committee, two blocks from where the boat overturned.

The Y. M. C. A. building has been made into headquarters and the committee, under Rev. E. W. Cohn of the Church of Christ, is working there to aid the suffering. Mrs. E. H. Fordyce, field worker for the Associated Charities, is in charge of the distribution of supplies and one thousand meals and many hundreds of garments have been distributed. The flooded district is patrolled by the militia. Telephone and telegraph companies are nearly swamped by the volume of business. Visitors from nearby towns crowded the streets today.

No more bodies are believed to be in the district from which the water has subsided and a search is being made farther down the river.

RUMOR OF PORTSMOUTH FIRE IS UNCONFIRMED

Telephone Operator Reports Message That City is on Fire Without Water Facilities Because of Flood.

Columbus, O., March 29.—The Norfolk & Western railroad at 11 o'clock received word that the Bell Telephone building in Portsmouth had collapsed and a serious fire was raging. All efforts to reach Portsmouth by telegraph or telephone have been futile.

Operator Reports Fire.
Columbus, O., March 29.—From Portsmouth by telephone via Jackson.—The telephone operator at Jackson tonight reported to General John C. Speaks, in command of troops doing flood duty in flooded districts, that she had just received a telephone message from the telephone office at Portsmouth that the latter city is on fire and without water facilities because of the flood of the Ohio river. The messenger stated that the city was on fire in several different sections.

Has Heard of No Fire.
Pittsburgh, Pa., March 29.—Futile efforts were made here this morning to verify a report that Portsmouth, O., was afire. The Associated Press learned by telephone from Lieutenant Bowman of the Huntington, W. Va., police that Portsmouth faced a critical situation but he knew of no fire. Bowman said he talked with Portsmouth over the telephone at 8 o'clock last night.

"The water has inundated the town," he said. "But I have heard of no fire."

Local officials of the telephone company then attempted to set up a line into Portsmouth or Jackson in a roundabout way without success.

PFANSCHMIDT WAS PRESSED FOR MONEY

Alleged to Have Murdered All Who Stood in Way of Large Estate

STATE HAS STRONG CASE

State's Attorney Declares Prisoner Has Confessed His Guilt of the Crime

JURY IS NOW COMPLETE

QUINCY, ILL., MARCH 29.—That Ray Pfanschmidt was pressed to desperation in his need for money to settle his obligations and to raise funds to carry out his promise to marry his sweetheart and that in his desperation he murdered every person who stood between himself and the large estate of his father was the statement made by State's Attorney Fred Wolfe to the jury this afternoon.

Ray Pfanschmidt; coolly and deliberately planned the murder of his father, mother and sister, in order to get the Pfanschmidt money. Then to conceal his crime, he was forced to kill Miss Emma Kaempfen, and the next night, to hide all evidences of his guilt, he returned to the Pfanschmidt home and set it on fire.

Was Heavily in Debt.

That in substance is the case which the state says it will prove against the twenty-one year old defendant on trial in the circuit court of this county for his life. According to the prosecutor, Ray had incurred over $1,500 of indebtedness on a contract for dynamiting the hillside on Twelfth and Cedar Creek, north of Quincy. He had further involved himself to the extent of several thousands and dollars by going into the automobile business. He had been warned by his bankers to cease overdrawings his accounts and had received from them a sharp letter the very day of the crime.

He went out to the Pfanschmidt home that fatal Friday night and some time in the night did the terrible deed. He had so arranged the hands of the clock with wires as to set off an explosion. The tracks of Ray's buggy, the bloodstained clothes and the tall-tail gasoline can are the principal matters of evidence depended upon by the state to convict Ray Pfanschmidt.

Has Shown No Sign of Grief.
Not once has the youth shown the least grief nor attempted to find the real slayer to his nearest blood relatives. At one time he also was ready to confess his crime to his uncle, William Abel, but was prevented from doing so.

The most sensational statement made by the state's attorney to day was that Ray Pfanschmidt had confessed his guilt of the crime to Frank Viehweyer. Viehweyer was charged with a trumped-up charge and placed in the cell with Ray. To him, according to Mr. Wolfe's statement, Ray declared "Yes I did it, but God knows it wasn't my fault."

Jury At Last Secured.
The last juror in the case was obtained at 2:35 this afternoon after five special venire had been ordered by Judge Williams.

The getting of the jury has occupied ten days and 399 talesmen were examined. The case is daily bringing large crowds to the court house in this city. Monday when the taking of the testimony is to begin it is not probable that the court room will hold all the people who will come from the surrounding country to attend the trial. No case in Adams county has ever created such general interest owing to the wealth of the families interested and the cold blooded nature of the crime committed.

PAYMASTERS TO OHIO.

Men Dispatched to Flood District by Navy Department Will Assist in Distributing Food and Clothing.

Washington, March 29.—Four paymasters to day were dispatched by the navy department to Ohio to assist in distributing provisions and clothing. The navy's clothing train of 15 cars from New York arrived at Harrisburg, Pa., to day and proceeded westward immediately.

The commandant of the Great Lakes naval station was directed by Secretary Daniels to furnish men for handling motor boats for rescue work.

The Russian ambassador and Chinese and Argentine minister called upon Secretary Bryan to day and tendered expressions of condolence and sympathy. Nicaragua, Uruguay and Italy sent similar messages.

MORGAN'S CONDITION SERIOUS.
New York, March 29.—J. P. Morgan, Jr., said tonight:

"I received a cable message this afternoon which, while it gave no details, indicated that my father's condition had been less favorable for the last three days and in view of his years, is such as to give rise to considerable anxiety."

OHIO RIVER AT CAIRO AT DANGER POINT

STONE WALL AROUND CITY IS BEING STRENGTHENED AND CLOSED

River Has Reached a Stage of Fifty Feet and is Rising at Rate of One and One-Half Feet Per Day—Other Illinois Flood News.

CAIRO, ILL., MARCH 29.—All openings in the stone wall around Cairo are being closed tonight and strengthened with sand bags. The flood gate, which shuts Cairo off from the drainage district on the north, probably will be closed tomorrow. The river registered 50 feet at 7 o'clock tonight.

Three companies of the Missouri national guard will concentrate tomorrow at Commerce, Mo., north of here to patrol and protect the Mississippi river levees. Telegrams sent to Adjutant General O'Meara, indicate that the Mississippi may rise higher than ever and that the levees are not as strong as they should be.

Major A. V. Adams, chief of the quartermaster's corps of the Missouri national guard started for Commerce from St. Louis last night where he arranged to ship forty tents for the use of refugees in southeast Missouri whose farm lands are now flooded.

In Mississippi county all living in the lowlands have been warned by telephone to prepare for a flood and no loss of life is anticipated.

Dunne is Appealed.

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—Governor Dunne received a telegram tonight from Sheriff Frazer, of Alexander county, stating that the Ohio river at Cairo had reached a stage of fifty feet and was rising at the rate of one and one-half feet per day and was at the danger point and that if it continued to rise tomorrow he would need two hundred troops at Cairo. He would not need them tonight, however, he said.

Adjutant General Dickson will remain all night tonight at his office at the state house in order to keep in touch with the situation.

Flee From Shawneetown Bottoms.
Many people have fled from their homes along the Sangamon river bottoms owing to the flood. At Riverton the water is within six inches of the floor of the monster Illinois traction system power plant. Property loss is heavy along the river.

B. & O. Bridge Collapses.
Word was received here tonight that a Baltimore & Ohio train which was run on a bridge over White river near Shoals, Ind., to increase the flood resistance of the bridge was plunged into the river when the underpinning of the bridge collapsed. Wire connection was severed and verification was impossible. G. G. Stevens, of Odin, trainmaster and H. R. Gibson, engineer of maintenance of way department who were with the train, have not been heard from and it is possible that they may have gone down with the bridge. No word has been received from the other men who were at work on the bridge.

Supplies to Shawneetown.
Troops and supplies are being rushed to Shawneetown to relieve the serious flood situation. Remaining to a distress message from Sheriff Clayton of Gallatin county, Governor Dunne this afternoon ordered 100 men of the national guard, 150 tents and 5,000 sacks rushed to the flood district at once. The sacks are to be filled with sand and used to strengthen the weakening levee. The state troops sent are: Company I, of Vandavia, Company G, of Effingham and the Illinois naval reserves at Alton. The Illinois naval reserves will be equipped with wharves and cutters.

Col. R. J. Shand and Col. E. J. Laug will be in charge of the situation in Shawneetown. They left this city at 5:10 o'clock this evening with the tents, sacks and provisions.

Because of the high water throughout the state Adjutant General Dickson had considerable difficulty in routing the troops so that they might arrive at Shawneetown in good time.

The Effingham troops were taken to Ashley on a regular train on the Illinois central. The Illinois naval reserves were taken to East St. Louis via the Chicago & Alton. At that place a special Louisville & Nashville train was made up, taking troops to Shawneetown.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK RAILROAD TRAIN.

Unknown Bandals Place Tie on Track of Chicago and Great Western Railroad West of Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., March 29.—An attempt was made tonight to wreck Chicago & Great Western passenger No. 5, six miles west of this city by unknown vandals, who placed a railroad tie on the track and covered it with clinders to deceive the trainmen. Fortunately Engineer W. J. Morris saw the obstruction and checked the speed of the train sufficiently to prevent a serious accident, but the train ran twenty rail lengths before it could be stopped. The heavy trucks of the engine were derailed but all the cars remained on the track. No one was injured.

CAMP GETS DECISION.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 29.—Eddie Campi of San Francisco was given the decision over Frankie Burns of Jersey City at the end of their 20-round bantam weight boxing contest at Vernon today. Camp outpointed Burns throughout the fight.

INDIANAPOLIS, MARCH 29.—Sixty lives are known to have been lost in Indiana's flood which has almost disappeared in central portions of the state but still is threatening Evansville and smaller cities along the Ohio river. Verified reports show that fifty-six persons were drowned and four are known to have died from exposure. Five more bodies were recovered today at Peru.

Peru and Brookville death lists are those of drownings only; but two deaths at Terre Haute, one at Fort Wayne and the only verified fatality in West Indianapolis followed exposure suffered by the refugees. Undoubtedly the list will be more or less extensively augmented during the next few days, indications being that the river channels still buried by high waters hold some bodies. The five bodies recovered at Peru today were those of persons already counted among the dead.

Governor Ralston is obtaining better organization of relief work and is sending relief funds into the stricken districts. Business conditions in Indianapolis already are normal.

Property losses throughout the state count many millions and Governor Ralston says it will be impossible to estimate this loss. Governor Ralston was authorized to call on Chicago for the services of as many trained nurses as may be needed to aid in work among refugees in any part of the state.

Lawrenceburg Levee Breaks.
Lawrenceburg, Junction, Ind., March 29.—The South Levee at Lawrenceburg broke out at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon. A wall of water poured through the opening and went raging through the center of the wreck, destroying all before it. The wreckage was carried four miles along the Miami bottoms to the hill on the main line of the Big Four.

Residents were warned yesterday to leave town and as a result no lives were lost.

Water is standing six feet deep in the streets and the river is rising slowly.

People Leave Lowlands.
Evansville, Ind., March 29.—Conditions here are bad but the advance warnings distributed throughout the districts liable to be acted and the immediate response of thousands of persons living in the lowlands, reduces the possibility of loss of life to a minimum. All available steam boats and launches in Port are now bringing refugees and livestock to this city. In Evansville district will probably will lose in the neighborhood of a half million bushels of corn stored from last year as it is impossible now to move it out of the water zone.

The Welsh are at flood tide in the Southern Indiana district with a height equalling the flood of 1875.

Homes Wrecked at Peru

PERU, IND., MARCH 29.—The waters have receded until now the river is within its own banks and sorrowing people are returning to their homes to find them wrecked and besmeared with mud.

The known dead are: Mrs. Louis Stumm, Mrs. James Mossman, Miss Bessie Shields, Mrs. Rose Stetler, John Fried, Edward Kellogg, Fred Mays, Ben York, Bert Smith.

Losses in Rescue Work.
Four of the men lost their lives while rescuing others. Mrs. Stumm and Miss Shields went down with Mays. There may be many more dead and their bodies washed away as people along the river report having seen many bodies floating away.

The property loss will reach $3,000,000. For the first time in the history of Peru the water spread from the treasury with surgeon General Rupert Blue tonight gave the Associated Press the following outline of the sanitary conditions existing in the city.

Outlines Sanitary Situation.
A survey of conditions in Dayton today shows that the sanitary situation is not so bad as was at first thought. Citizens have been warned to boil all drinking water and to bury refuse. City water is now flowing under twenty pound pressure. Sewers in some sections are again in operation. The city expects to have others working tomorrow.

The city has been divided into sixteen sanitary districts and tonight physicians who have been sworn in as district sanitary officers are being instructed as to their precise duties as heads of these districts.

CINCINNATI, O., MARCH 29.—With nearly 16,000 persons in the towns on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river driven from their homes by the rising yellow tide sweeping down the Ohio valley and with more than 3,500 homes altogether or partly submerged, the flood situation in this vicinity is assuming graver proportions hourly. Here the water front buildings are all partly under water and much damage has been done.

Gauge Shows 67 Foot Stage.
Late today the government gauge showed a stage of 67 feet and the indications were that before many hours there would be 68 feet in the river here.

So far only one life has been lost as a direct result of the high waters here. Miss Anna Smith, the first victim drowned, lost her life in an attempt to reach Newport in a skiff that capsized in mid-stream. Her three men companions were rescued.

At Newport and Covington, conditions are worse than elsewhere and nearly ten thousand people have been driven from their homes. Relief measures, however, are adequate.

In the Kentucky towns of Dayton, Ludlow, Bellevue and Bromley identical conditions exist but in their cases all communication with Cincinnati, Newport and Covington has been suspended.

In these towns there are a total of 2,000 persons being cared for by relief committees and more than 500 homes have been flooded.

Crisis is Passed at Zanesville

ZANESVILLE, O., MARCH 29.—Via Telephone to Pittsburgh—Relief reached Zanesville late this afternoon and for the first time since the flood came last Tuesday tired civil and military officers felt that the worst was over. Several additions were made to the list of the dead reported this morning bringing the total to ten. The receding waters showed that estimates as to property damage had not been exceeded.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad construction crew working from New Concord succeeded in reaching a point within two miles of the depot in Zanesville and from there heavy wagons loaded with provisions and clothing were sent overland to the city. A dozen collapsible boats were received and sent through the districts where the current was not too swift. By this means many persons were rescued from houses that for days have been surrounded by water.

National Guard Arrive.
Additional companies of Ohio National Guard arrived during the day and relieved the local companies and rigid martial law was enforced. Among their first duties was to give protection to the panic stricken people from two cases of smallpox which are said to have developed. Guards were thrown around the home of patients and none but the health authorities permitted to approach.

Details of the plan for clearing up the city were completed when the active heads of manufacturing concerns employing in the aggregate some six thousand men, decided not to resume operations but to turn their forces over to the authorities for street work.

This afternoon 500 men were sent to the local mines nearby to dig coal which was distributed to the destitute.

The Nurses' association of Muskingum county volunteered the services of 150 trained nurses and they were quickly put to work.

Doctors Are Arriving.
Doctors also are arriving and the health authorities believe they can take care of the unusual conditions expected to follow the going out of the flood.

The waters of the Muskingum and Licking rivers are receding rapidly. A telephone cable was stretched across the Muskingum to Putnam and communication with that part of the city also was restored by boat.

The city was stirred by the report late today that 23 bodies had been found in McIntyre Park but investigation proved the report unfounded. Soon afterward five bodies were found in the Northern section of Putnam. They have not been identified.

HUNTING DUCKS AT MOSCOW.

F. L. Sharpe and Charles Franz who went to the Moscow Bay club grounds Thursday after ducks made a longer stay than they contemplated. The fact that C. P. & St. L. bridges were out made it practically impossible for them to get home. After finding that they must stay longer they purchased supplies at Bath and went back to the camp to make the best of an enforced hunting stay.

THE TEMPERATURES.

SIXTY LIVES LOST IN INDIANA FLOOD

the hills on either side and there were only two dry spots within the city limits. The court house was a place of refuge for five thousand people for a few days and on Smith's Island, where there are but eighteen houses, there were 973 people. The report that there were two hundred dead, that smallpox had broken out in the court house and that many robbers were killed, all were utterly false.

Orders Two Hundred Coffins.
In the rush and excitement one man sent forth a request for two hundred coffins, which have been received and have been placed in storage as they are not needed.

The response to the call for help has been wonderful. Fifty carloads of provisions have poured into Peru since Wednesday morning. Cities as far north as Kalamazoo, Mich., Elkhart and South Bend, south to Indianapolis and Lebanon, west to Danville, Ill., and east to Ft. Wayne, have heard the call and have responded very liberally, so generously in fact that at the present time there is too much food of a perishable nature here for immediate use. The Eagles at South Bend sent two thousand gallon jugs of water which was especially welcome, as the city water plant was out of commission until today.

LATEST FLOOD BULLETINS.

PITTSBURGH, PA., MARCH 29.—The height of the flood water at Portsmouth, O., according to reports here reached 70 feet early this morning.

ROANOKE, VA., MARCH 29.—Night Chief Dispatcher Cross of the Norfolk & Western railroad here is the authority for the statement that there is no fire in Portsmouth, O., according to information received from that point by telephone.

NEW YORK, MARCH 29.—With the Hudson river receding at the rate of two inches an hour, practically all danger is believed to be past in the flooded regions of New York state. The property loss at Rochester is estimated at $500,000; Albany $1,000,000; Troy, $2,000,000.

MEMPHIS, TENN., MARCH 29.—Slowly rising from Cairo to Vicksburg, the Mississippi river has started another lap of the expected flood stage, due largely to the torrent coming from the Ohio. At Drinkwater, Mo., opposite Cairo the water is pouring through Roarke gap. Parts of three counties will be affected.

MOUNT CARMEL, ILL., MARCH 29.—A trestle on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Jacksons Hill, Illinois, on which forty men were working was swept away today when six miles of track was washed out. Several of the party are marooned on a knoll and have not yet been rescued. Several are believed to have been drowned.

LOUISVILLE, KY., MARCH 29.—With the Ohio river showing a rise of only one-tenth of a foot an hour and no developments between Louisville and Cincinnati to indicate anything higher than the original prediction of a crest at Louisville of 45 feet.

Reports received today and tonight from points both east and west of Louisville told of precautions taken to prevent loss of life.

PITTSBURGH, PA., MARCH 30.—Via Telephone from various points in West Virginia and Kentucky—Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va. and the bordering cities of Kentucky are suffering from flood waters this morning. Parkersburg has been cut off from communication for the past 18 hours and Huntington was lost after seven o'clock last night. The business district of both cities are almost entirely under water.

Efforts to reach Portsmouth, Ohio by telephone from Huntington were futile Saturday night.

GOVERNOR COX ESTIMATES PROPERTY LOSS IN OHIO AT THREE HUNDRED MILLION.

COLUMBUS, O., MARCH 29.—Three hundred millions is the estimate of the property loss in Ohio made by Governor Cox tonight. According to reports to the governor there is not a bridge standing over either the Muskingum or Miami rivers.

The loss at Columbus will be about 100 lives. The maximum at Dayton as it appears now will be two hundred. Hamilton will run about one hundred and fifty the governor states.

"In Cincinnati," Governor Cox says in his statement, "in the fullness of her bounty shipped train loads of supplies into the Miami and southeastern parts of Indiana as well. Philanthropy displayed prudence and tonight the Queen City of the west appeals to the state for assistance. Dayton and Zanesville, the two troublesome points so far as extension of relief was concerned are in pretty fair shape."

The western food supply was tapped by way of Indianapolis. The Chicago association of commerce at our request established a base at Indianapolis as soon as railroad traffic was resumed between Dayton and the Indiana capital. Ten carloads of lime, five car tanks of gasoline and a train load consisting of bread, vegetables and clothing are on their way to Dayton now from that point.

Coffee Won't Hurt You

If you get the right coffee. The trouble is that under present conditions of the coffee market its a temptation to dealers to cheapen the QUALITY in order to still give the public an apparently "cheap" price.

There is no coffee that will go farther and be more economical in the end, because even at 45c (the price of No. 1 blend) it costs you less than a cent a cup, and you drink The Best coffee grown. THE ART OF CORRECT DRESS

The Fourth Article in a Series of Talks on Correctness in Dress.
A Subject of Especial Interest Just Now to

The Young Woman Graduate

Correctness in dress does not necessarily mean that a great expenditure must be involved in its production. Correctness is not a purchasable commodity, but is brought about by taking advantage of the best resources offered in the line of costuming. Graduation day marks an important epoch in a young woman's life, and the gown worn upon its celebration should be in keeping with the occasion. Harmon's Dry Goods Store, by virtue of the renown it has won as a dress goods center, is the logical place to come for the graduation outfit; and the pattern department, where the famous Pictorial Review patterns are sold, shows the latest authorized modes for fashioning of the garment. These two departments, through the agency of a talented and helpful sales force, are the most pronounced aid contained in Jacksonville for obtaining correctness in the Graduation gown.

To introduce the graduation buying period we offer for this week only three very special values in Embroidered Voile. NEW STYLE
AUTOMOBILE WHISTLE
Leonard Hill's of Franklin, is the inventor and patentee of a new style automobile whistle which several owners of machines have pronounced easy of operation and likely of extended use. It is supplied with air by a fan attached to the shaft of the fly wheel of the engine. This shaft is set in motion by a pulley worked by a foot pedal. The device is easy to manufacture and can be attached to an automobile at a small cost. Mr. Hill is confident that he can interest manufacturers of automobile parts in its adoption.

BANKING SERVICE.

We talk about our banking service. We do so because we honestly believe we can render an unequalled and unexcelled banking service. Have you ever thought what real bank service is? It is not merely receiving your money and paying it out again on your check. No indeed.

Your banking service should first of all be absolutely safe and conservative. Look up this bank and see if it does not measure up in this respect.

Your banker should be your confidential business adviser and be able to give you the right advice at all times on business matters. He should keep his weather eye open at all times to your best interests. He should enjoy your confidence.

We try to keep the interests of our customers foremost in our thoughts. We know the banking and business experience of our officers enables them to furnish our customers an information and service bureau rarely found in a bank. We know that our organization is such that we can furnish our customers all banking accommodations at the lowest cost and we are doing it.

We honestly try to keep our depositors' funds working for them. Maybe we are dividing our legitimate profits with our customers, but we are building up our business on these lines. That is why we are opening accounts with the most conservative and careful men and women in the community.

Our bank is a complete one, built to fit this community, organized to give the people the best banking service possible. It is owned by no clique, caters to no class, seeks only the legitimate banking business of honest men and women. Its officers are bankers and bankers only, giving the bank their entire attention except that given their farming interests.

We want your account even if it is small—of course we like large accounts—but we especially want the small accounts and want them to grow with us. We want the accounts of those who want to keep their funds at work.

Our Trust Department is a new thing in this community. Its advantages and usefulness are not generally understood. Trust companies are the highest developed modern means of handling many business affairs, especially estate matters. The trust department of our bank is entirely separate and distinct from the bank proper. It is at your service. Even if you are a depositor at another bank you are invited to consult us about any business it is capable of handling.

The temperature of the closed schoolroom averaged 68 degrees, while for the open-window room it was 47 degrees.

The name of Woodrow Wilson, President of United States, heads the honorary committee on the Eighth International Congress of Students ("Corda Fratres") to be held at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., August 29 to September 13. Other prominent Americans on the committee are: Governor William Sulzer, of New York; Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education; John Barrett, director general of the Pan American Union; Hamilton Holt, editor of "The Independent"; Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York City; Edwin D. Mead of the World Peace Foundation; Samuel T. Dutton, of the American Peace Society; together with the presidents and other officers of many of the leading universities of the country. The "Corda Fratres", or International Federation of Students, was started in Italy in 1898 and now has affiliated organizations in many European countries and in both North and South America. The principal aim of the federation is "to support and spread the idea of unity and brotherhood among students" without regard to their religious or political beliefs. At the last Congress held in Rome in 1911, the United States was selected as the meeting place for 1913, and it was determined to take up at this time a plan for developing an all-embracing world organization of students in the higher institutions of learning.

SPECIAL FLOOD BULLETIN SHOWS STAGE OF RIVER

Ohio River At Parkersburg, W. Va., Reached Stage of 60.4 Feet Yesterday Morning.

Washington, March 29.—A special flood bulletin issued tonight says:

The weather bureau has received through the Associated Press an unofficial report showing the Ohio river at Parkersburg, W. Va., to have been at a stage of 60.4 feet at 8 a. m. Saturday. The highest previous stage at Parkersburg was 53.9 feet in 1884.

The hio at Cincinnati at 7 p. m. Saturday night was 67.1 feet, 17.1 feet above flood stage.

At Louisville the stage was 41.9 feet, 13.9 feet above the flood stage and still rising.

At Evansville some of the outskirts of the city are now flooded. The crest stage will probably reach that city Thursday with at least 49 feet.

The Cairo stage was 50.0 feet above the flood stage.

The crest of the Ohio flood will probably reach Cairo Monday, April 7th with a stage close to 53.5 feet.

The Mississippi at St. Louis was a stage of 25.1 feet and falling.

The flood stage at St. Louis is 30 feet. No material changes have taken place in the gauge readings south of Cairo.

JESSE NEWMAN OF CHANDLERVILLE COMMITS SUICIDE.

Hangs Self From Rafters in Barn of His Employer, J. L. Hillman.

Despondency caused by several months of ill health is assigned as the cause of the suicide of Jesse Newman who hung himself Friday in the barn of J. L. Hillman, near Anderson, four miles south of Chandlerville. Newman was about 60 years of age and had been employed as a farm hand in that community for many years. He was last seen by Mr. Hillman about 10:00 o'clock when he was sent to do some work on some hog pens. He did not appear at dinner, but no alarm was felt as it was thought he had gone to one of the neighbors. His lifeless body was found about one o'clock by Mr. Hillman's son, Orville. He had evidently climbed upon a stall, tied the rope around his neck and attached it to a rafter and jumped to his death. His body was taken down with the assistance of some neighbors and laid on a bier in the buggy shed to await the coroner. The inquest was held in Virginia Saturday. The deceased is survived by a brother, Robert Newman of Iowa and an uncle, Alexander Newman or near Anderson.

GEN. ATKINS HAS UNUSUAL RECORD IN THE GREAT WAR

Old Soldier Who Will be Buried Today at Freeport Well Known by Capt. Smith and Others Here—Postmaster For Nearly Fifty Years.

Capt. Alexander Smith was well acquainted with the late Gen. Smith D. Atkins, who died recently at his home in Freeport and who is to be buried there today. Others here also knew the old soldier. Gen. Atkins had a notable record in the great war and afterward returned to Freeport, where he engaged in newspaper work and for fifty years was editor of the Freeport Journal. In the sixties he was appointed postmaster at Freeport and held that position until his death, save during the two Cleveland administrations.

He was born near Elmira, Chemung county, N. Y., on June 9, 1835, and was a lad of ten years when he came to Illinois with his father's family, their home being established on a farm, where he continued to reside until 1859. Later he studied law and engaged in newspaper work.

First Man to Enlist.

General Atkins was elected prosecuting attorney for the fourteenth judicial circuit in 1861. On April 17, 1861, while engaged in a criminal case in the circuit court of Stephenson county, a telegram was received stating that President Lincoln had issued his first call for troops to suppress the rebellion. He immediately, without leaving the court room, drew up an enlistment roll, which he headed with his own name, being the first man to enlist as a private soldier in this county. He then announced to the court and jury his intention to prepare without delay for service in the union army. Leaving the half-finished case in the hands of a brother attorney, he hastened out of the court room with his enlistment roll and went into the streets of the city to find volunteers. Before dark 120 had signed the roll, and in the evening a company organization was formed with young Atkins as its captain.

Honorable Military Career.

Capt. Atkins and his companions in arms went to Springfield, where they were mustered in as Company A, 11th Illinois Volunteer Infantry, at Bird's Point. He was at Fort Donelson with an unexpired order of leave of absence in his pocket when the command of "Forward!" was given. He took sixty-eight men into this desperate engagement and came out with but twenty-three, having been in the very thickest of the carnage.

Gallant Conduct in Field.

In all the engagements in which he participated with his brigade, Colonel Atkins greatly distinguished himself and especially so at Waynesboro, Georgia, where Wheeler and his cavalry were overwhelmingly defeated. While leading the charge of his troops against the rebel columns, his color bearer was shot down by his side and his brigade flag attracted the attention of the enemy, who poured upon it their concentrated fire. In this terrific storm of leaden hail he bore a charmed life, leading prominently in the van and cheering on his troops to victory.

At Savannah, Ga., he was brevetted brigadier general for gallantry and was assigned to duty under his commission as brevet brigadier general by special order of President Lincoln and commanded a brigade of cavalry during Sherman's campaign in the Carolinas, and at the close of the war, when he was mustered out, he was brevetted major general for faithful and important services. In all his stations as a commanding officer he was popular with the rank and file. He was a perfect disciplinarian and was kind and considerate to the men under him. His courage and his judgment as a strategist won their confidence, and they readily and heartily supported him wherever he went.

The present condition of our country roads emphasizes the demand for better roads.

The tariff law has suspended as against any and all Canadian products sent to this country for the relief of flood sufferers in Ohio—the first bit of free trade in fifty years.

A world-wide observance of Mothers' day is being planned by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, founder of Mothers' day in the United States. Mothers' day is the second Sunday in May and should be characterized by special services in the churches of Jacksonville.

There not being vice enough in Illinois to keep our legislative committee busy, they are seeking a job in adjoining states for the summer months, says an eastern critic. "The O'Hara (and O'Horrors committee) is giving the country a lesson in the refined art of muck raking that may become memorable in the history of modern uplift."

During the year 1912 Illinois shipped to the St. Louis National stock yards 166,141 cattle, 551,576 hogs, 177,755 sheep and 28,659 horses and mules. These are actual figures, but represent only a small part of the industry, as fully this much live stock, and probably considerably more, went from this state to the Chicago market, besides what was sent to New York and other markets.

The California legislature has invited Clarence Darrow to address them on the bill now pending providing for the abolition of the death penalty. No man is more capable of giving a broader opinion on this subject than Mr. Darrow. His own experience as a lawyer and as a man who has just been tried on a serious charge qualify him to speak as an authority.

The demolition of the famous crystal palace in London is threatened and the lord mayor has organized "a last attempt to raise a fund to preserve it for the permanent use of the people." Built for the international exhibition in London in 1851, at which the courts of Europe were represented, the great structure of glass has been not only a unique feature, but one from which history is being dated.

United States Attorney General Reynolds announces that applicants for federal judgeships who have reached the age of 60 are badly handicapped and younger men will have the preference. Since the administration of President Harrison it has been felt that 56 ought to be the extreme limit of age for placing a man on the federal bench unless under extraordinary circumstances, as it is too short a time until he is eligible to retirement at full salary.

President Poincaré of France has declared his intention of spending his entire immense salary of $250,000 a year while he is occupying his seven years' office, and then of going to work to earn his living when he has finished his term. Perhaps he has only in mind the democratic idea that a president should not use the emoluments of office to lift himself away from the people who have to continue the making of a living.

Indications are that President Wilson means to take his own time in appointing a successor to Col. Frank L. Smith as revenue collector for this district. H. F. Adams, chief deputy, received notification from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell that he had been appointed acting collector of internal revenue and would be in charge of the office until President Wilson appoints. E. G. Saxe, of this city, is an applicant for the position of collector.

The State Bar association meeting of 1913 promises to be a very important conference.

The agitation for judicial reform which has been under way twenty years or more, has reached a point where every lawyer of foresight fully recognizes the need of radical changes. Simplification of judicial procedure is but one of the essentials. Stricter compliance with the ethics of the profession and sterner methods of handling disreputable petitioners are now recognized as necessary to the regeneration of the profession.

George O. Glavis, a newspaper reporter in Chicago, has pleaded guilty to swindling the Tribune, and has been sentenced to imprisonment for a year and a half at Joliet. Glavis told the Tribune that he would secure certain damaging testimony in the way of records against Senator Lorimer and was paid $650 by the Tribune with which to get possession of the evidence, but he had nothing to present and has confessed it. His confession, it is claimed, exonerates the Tribune from entering into a conspiracy against Lorimer. This man Glavis is a brother of the one who was a witness against Secretary Ballinger.

Speaking of the time consumed in securing a jury in some cases, Judge MacPherson of the federal bench says that he has never consumed more than two hours' time in empaneling a jury. He also says that the elaborate devices for selecting an "unprejudiced jury" in the state courts have the most frequent effect of getting a prejudiced jury. If they do not have that effect, he adds, the lawyers for one side of the other are disappointed. The difficulty has been experienced many times in Morgan county in important cases. If the state bar association can suggest a remedy there would be less complaint of the failure of justice, especially in criminal cases.

With the senators from Illinois, Sherman, Republican, and Lewis, Democrat, and all the seats in the United States senate filled, the Democrats will have 51 members of that chamber and the opposition will have 45, comprising 43 Republicans and 2 Progressives. This is a narrow margin for a party which has many large measures on its program for the next two years, some of them being partisan. As a chain is as weak as its weakest link, the Democrats' grip on the legislative branch of the government is not as strong as the country expected it would be. Despite their majority of 17 in the house, they are compelled by that narrow margin of six votes in the senate to act with some degree of caution in legislative matters.

The attack on the constitutionality of the state-wide civil service law, due to the appointment by Secretary of State Woods of certain employees, will not be made in the courts, and if a test case is brought it will not be by reason of Secretary Woods' appointments. The secretary has sent to the Illinois state civil service commission a formal notice of the resignation of Harrington Clanchan as chief clerk of the office of James W. Gullett as chief clerk of the corporation department, and of P. C. Willoughby as messenger in the automobile department, and asked authority to appoint temporarily Albert E. Isley, John C. McGrath and Jephtha Jones, respectively to fill their places. The civil service commission had no eligible list for the first two offices, and approval of the temporary appointments was granted. The work assigned to Jephtha E. Jones is purely clerical nature and under the civil service law he is said to be exempt from the civil service. There are more ways of evading the law than one, and the Democrats may be trusted to find the way.

MAKING A CITIZEN.
The making of an American citizen by the issuance of naturalization papers is one of scant ceremony in this state, usually done in a manner that conveys but little information to the applicant. The Christian Science Monitor reports the program of a civic function projected in the Massachusetts mill town:

"An innovation in the issuing of naturalization certificates to newly made citizen of the United States will be inaugurated in this city next Tuesday night, when a specially arranged program will be carried out in the assembly hall of the high school."

There were seventy-five applicants for citizenship accepted at the sitting of the Superior court here last week, and these will be notified by mail to gather at the high school next Thursday night at 8 o'clock to receive their certificates of naturalization.

"Mayor Michael A. Scanlon will preside. The certificates will be presented by Clerk E. B. George of the Superior Court, and Judge Charles U. Bell will deliver an address on 'Good Citizenship.'"

"In addition a chorus of high school pupils will render several selections. Formerly it has been the custom in naturalization proceedings for the applicants to call at the office of the clerk of court and there receive their final certificates. The new plan, however, will be adopted in the hope that the new citizens will be made better to realize the import of the privilege extended them."

THE RAINFALL.

From Friday morning, March 21 to Tuesday morning, March 25, there was a rainfall of 5.2 inches in this locality, which is about one-seventh of the average rainfall of the year. The precipitation came in such form as to justify the belief that a sufficient amount of it will be stored in the earth to serve the spring crops for some time. Such a rainfall presents a feature that border closely on the miraculous. A cubic foot of water weighs about 62.25 pounds, so that a fall of 5.2 inches on a square foot of ground amounts to placing there on a weight of 26.33 pounds; and as there are 43,560 square feet in an acre, a rainfall of 5.2 inches precipitates on an acre 1,139,548.4 pounds, or 569.77 tons of 2,000 pounds each.

If now we multiply 569.77 tons by 640 we shall have the weight in tons of the water which falls on a section of land in a rain that amounts to 5.2 inches, and that sum multiplied by 36 will tell how much in tons falls on a township.

By this time the totals will have acquired such magnitude as to be almost incredible, without carrying the calculation out to cover an area so large as the central division of the state, or even a single county, says the Springfield Journal.

The whole phenomenon, which, when studied minutely, becomes so startling, is merely a manifestation of the energy of direct solar radiation, and is well calculated to suggest the tremendous scale on which nature silently carries on her work for vivifying the earth and feeding her animate creatures.

"OUT OF THE MOUTH OF BABES."

"If your father had a good job, and you didn't have to work, which would you rather do—go to school or work in a factory?"

This question was asked by Helen M. Todd of 500 children out of twenty different factories.

More than 80 per cent—412 out of 500—said that they would rather work in a factory.

Miss Todd, who has been for years a factory inspector in Chicago, has in the current McClure's a vitally interesting article on child labor. In his introduction to this article the editor intimates that it disproves of the assumption that bad industrial conditions are the cause of the exploitation of children; that there is another powerful but indirect influence that is also responsible. "Does the factory," he asks, "heavy as the tax is that it takes from children, represent an escape from something that is even more dreaded?"

Miss Todd herself answers the question

when she says that out of 800 children whom she questions, in 381 cases the cause of the child's working was the death of the father though some industrial accident or his sickness from some industrial disease contracted in the course of his work.

"Over and over again, in answer to the question, 'What does your father do?' the reply is, 'He's sick,' and the same story unfolds in every factory from most of the children you question: 'He's got the brass chills; He's got consumption; He's got blood poisoning; He's paralyzed; He can't use his hands; He works in a foundry and the cupola burst and he got burned; a rail fell on his foot, and it's smashed; He's dead—he got killed.' He worked in the steel mills, or the stock yards, or on the railroad, and the engine ran over him; he was burned with molten metal, or crushed by falling beams, or maimed by an explosion."

"Often, without looking up, the child answers: 'My mother she works and me.' And how much does your mother make? 'She makes 18 cents an hour, scrubbing downtown.' 'And how much do you make?' 'I can make six cents a thousand, pasting on cigar bands.' 'And can you and your mother earn enough money to take care of the family?' 'Yes, ma'am,' she answers; 'we gotta.'"

WHICH SHALL IT BE.

There was a splendid meeting of the Chamber of Commerce rooms the other day to discuss the proposed issue of bonds for the rebuilding of our electric lighting system. It was one of the gatherings of men interested that can only result in good for the city.

The commissioners were represented by Messrs. Brennan and Knollenberg. There were representatives present of almost every business interest in Jacksonville, present for the sole purpose of discussing a matter of interest to the business life of Jacksonville.

All present did not favor the proposed improvement, but all were desirous of discussing the matter from the broader view, that of the greatest good to the greatest number of our people. It was a meeting that will tend to bring about harmony.

It was in a sense a "get together" crowd of men capable of seeing and discussing a question from every angle, but all with one purpose in view. It is not only the bald question of the issuance of bonds, but one regarding the general good.

Mr. Brennan and the commission have investigated the matter of municipal electric lighting, its cost, and the needs of the city for the next decade. They propose a plant that will meet all demands of an ordinary increase of territory and of population. They know the present needs of the city and do not believe we can afford to stand still, or to build for today only.

They do not think it wise to spend a large amount of money in building a plant that must be pushed to capacity each day from the start. It is wise to have some reserve power for emergencies, or to meet the growth and extension of the city, which we all hope for—and believe will surely come.

The spirit exhibited by the business men gathered was one of hopefulness and of a desire to end the long season of jealousies and backbiting and fault finding that has prevailed for some years, that has done much to retard our growth, and to give us that reputation outside as a house divided against itself.

It is much better for the entire city for us to end the division, to get together in all reason and work for the common good. Parties may differ as to the actual amount of money needed for an improvement—that can only be known exactly when the contract for the work is actually let, and it is only human nature that there is a difference as to that.

All must agree, if they study the question at all, that we need the new plant—that a large amount of money must be expended in its rehabilitation. We need an improvement over our old and antiquated system. We need more light.

Is it not better for all that we quit haggling over a few dollars, and show to the world that we are not yet in the "has-been" class, or that if we have been close to the border of that condition, that we can "come back."

In the past few years every step that has been attempted in the improvement of the city has been fought by a faction that has seemed to be afraid to trust any one, they might even with some justice have some doubt of their own ability.

We have listened and been led astray many times by some with selfish motives, by men who seek only what they think will benefit themselves or only a limited few. By men whose only thought is of the increase in the amount of taxes they may be called on to pay, no matter how slight. By men interested in making a dollar for themselves, or in diverting business to some corporation or place other than this. By men who seek to bring outside issues into the game in order to befog or mislead.

There is only one question in the present matter before the people—do we as a city need a thoroughly up-to-date system for lighting the city? Shall we get together on that point at the present time, seeking only the general good of the city, or otherwise?

Do not quibble and try to bring in matters not pertinent to the time or the question. It is not a question of what some corporation will do at a time when their axe is exceedingly dull, but of what you will do.

The amount of difference between the amount estimated by our city commissioners as necessary and the amount conceded even by many who oppose the bond issue because they claim it is too great, is too small to haggle over, or to risk giving the city another black eye by voting against the proposition.

Let us try to look at the matter from the stand-point of increased efficiency, from the opinion that may be formed by people outside, from the enhancement of value of all property if it goes out to people seeking homes that Jacksonville is one of the best lighted cities in the state, that its streets are safe at all hours of the night, and that its people have seen the error of their ways, have some slight degree of confidence in the "commission form of government," and have decided that the best plan is that we from this day drop our petty factional schemes, and have concluded that Jacksonville, beautiful and prosperous, is of greater benefit to all than suspicion and strife.

BUTTER MAKERS WILL CONFERENCE.

Members of the Central Illinois Butter Makers association will meet in this city at the Dunlap hotel Thursday, April 3rd. The association includes the creamery companies in the state south of the Elgin group and there will be from fifty to sixty visitors here on that date. Meetings of this kind are held each month, the purpose being to discuss affairs of mutual interest and the bettering of creamery products. J. B. Newman, deputy state pure food commissioner usually meets with the delegates, and will probably be here.

BOYS CORN CLUB PRIZES

The Boys' Corn prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce are more liberal than usually offered in contests of this kind, in fact are the most liberal which have come to our knowledge. The prizes usually offered are free trips to Washington or elsewhere or buggies, whips, implements, clothes etc. The Morgan county prizes are gold and large ones. The winners of the larger prizes can take a trip, or a term at some good school or the short course at Champaign or can buy what ever they want. The winner of the first prize could almost take a course in a good college with his prize money.

The farmer boys of to day will be the farmers ten years hence. The opportunity to learn better agriculture should not be overlooked by any farmer boy. There is a great opportunity in the work of the Boys' Corn Club. It is conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the valuable work being done by the Department should be more generally appreciated. The department enrolls on its lists the members of the Boys' Corn Club and furnishes them bulletins etc. The work of the Corn Clubs are conducted so as to help educate the members. The liberal prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce are after all a mere incident. Every boy who enters the corn contest will get a training worth much more than the first prize.

Last year Lester Bryant of Rockfield Kentucky won the State Championship in the Boys' Corn Clubs with a yield of 148.55 bushels on one acre. The prize he won a free trip to Washington. While there he was asphyxiated in his hotel. Now the State of Kentucky through its Commissioner of Agriculture is selling his corn to raise funds to build him a monument at his birthplace. His greatest monument is the fact that boy as he was, he made good. His fame will endure because he hit the line hard with good judgment and succeeded in making a name for himself. Some boy, several boys in Morgan county should make good in the Boys' Corn Club. The prizes offered are attractive and very red-blooded farmer boy in the county out to ginger up and go after these prizes.

D. T. Roy of the state school for the deaf has received a letter from his brother, John, who lives in Omaha. He was fortunate in escaping without personal injury or damage to property. The writer stated that the storm wrought awful havoc, but that conditions are not as bad as some of the newspaper reports have indicated.

TO CELEBRATE PEACE OF CON.

Rome, March 29.—Thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the globe are assembled in this city to witness the opening of the series of celebrations which the vatican has arranged to commemorate the sixteenth centennial of the proclamation of the edict of Milan known as the Peace of Constantine, which marked the Christianization of the Roman government. On the surface of this celebration, which will extend over the whole year, is supposed merely to be a fitting remembrance of the adoption by the Emperor Constantine, following his victory over the pagan general, Maxentius, just outside of Rome, of Christianity as the official religion of the state. No secret, however, is made of the fact that back of the celebration are two other motives. In the first place this commemoration is intended as a protest of the vatican against the celebration by Italy two years ago of the fiftieth anniversary of its unification, a celebration which was highly offensive to the vatican, because it commemorated an event by which the vatican was deprived of his temporal power.

To celebrate the anniversary of the unification of Italy the government had arranged exhibitions on a magnificent scale at Rome and at Turin, but owing to the outbreak of the war with Turke, the prevalence of a cholera epidemic and other unfortunate conditions the celebration proved a failure and attracted but few visitors to Italy. One of the motives in arranging the "Constantine Year" celebration by the vatican was to prove to the world how much greater is the temporal power of the vatican than that of the Italian government. Judging from the number of pilgrims already assembled here and the many thousands who are either on their way to Rome or have made their plans to visit the city at some time during the celebration year, the vatican bids fair to make a good showing. Although the commemorative celebrations planned will all be held in this city, some of the principal anniversaries will be observed by Roman Catholic churches throughout the world.

TRAVEL IS DIFFICULT.

Miss Mary Wadsworth will arrive this morning from Wellesley college to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree. Miss Wadsworth is coming west for the Easter vacation and to be a bride's maid at the wedding of Miss Helen Nixon in St. Louis, April 9th. There are so many railroad washouts that Miss Wadsworth was a good deal delayed in travel. She expected to go direct to St. Louis but found she could not reach there save by coming through Chicago.

ROADS ARE IMPROVING.

Although Morgan county roads are not in a condition to be praised they are getting better than was true a week or two since. This is true more especially of course where they have been dragged. The road west from Lynville has been dragged all the way and traveling comparatively good there Saturday.

If you could shout loud enough to be heard a hundred miles, your words would require eight minutes to cover the distance. Sound travels only 1120 feet a second.

Electricity is one-and-a-third million times as fast. It covers a hundred miles almost instantly.

The telephone is a through express for sound. A long distance call is a special train for your voice on an exclusive right-of-way. It costs less than a cent a mile, air-line. Call "Long Distance."

CHATS WITH GREAT MEN OF THE CIVIL WAR

By Mrs. Gen. Pickett.

Copyright, 1913, by The Press Publishing Co.
(The New York Evening World.)

GEN. HENRY ALEXANDER WISE

"Here comes one of the gamiest soldiers that ever shot a gun and one of the most eloquent speakers who ever uttered a word, and with a moral courage, too, equal to his physical bravery," said Gen. Pickett as Gen. Henry A. Wise came across the room to speak to us.

Of course I told Gen. Wise what my soldier had said. Well, I promise you right now that if I am ever governor of old Virginia again I'll pardon him for even the mysterious, unknown-to-any, unpardonable sin.

"For Virginia's sake I should like to have you for her governor again. But for your own sake I should prefer you to be in a much higher office."

"What a politician you would make with a little training," he laughed. "But I have held my last office."

"Brigadier-general in the confederate army, three times elected to congress, once minister to Brazil, once governor of my state—why on earth old John Brown should have come into the state and murdered helpless women and children and destroyed our homes and property at the close of my administration and spoiled it by forcing me to have him hanged and bring on this awful war I can't see. I wish he'd waited a little while for old Letcher could have managed it a great deal better than I could."

"I don't think John Brown meant to spoil your administration by being hanged, general," I replied.

"You are not excusing John Brown, madam, by saying that he did not mean it. People who 'don't mean to do things' ought to be hanged without judge or jury. We didn't mean to do a great many things in our late war, did we Pickett? We didn't mean to lose the best opportunity the confederacy ever had for success at Petersburg, June 15, 16 and 17, when Lee thought that Grant was hemmed in at City Point and had nowhere to go, and would be obliged to attack us because he couldn't get out. As great a strategist as Grant was, that piece of strategy was his greatest. He deceived Lee as to his whereabouts for three days at the most critical period of the confederacy and saved himself from defeat."

"Gen. Beauregard did his best to warn the government."

"Doubting Thomases! Beauregard and Pickett here gave warning after warning. The war department was thoroughly informed, but continued to doubt. Oh, those days and those nights—my small brigade, Dearing's two regiments of cavalry and a few old men and boys under Archer, an old Mexican veteran, and Colston, who was disabled at Chancellorsville. On the afternoon of the 17th Pickett's division retook the lines abandoned by Bushrod Johnson."

"I pleaded with Gen. Lee to come to terms after Gettysburg, telling him again at Farmville, near the close of the war, that the best thing for him to do was to put his poor men on the poor mules and send them home in time for the spring ploughing. I told him that there was no country and had been none for a year or more. He was their country and he had held them together by their devotion to him and faith in him, and there were thousands who were ready to die for him. But the blood of every man who died from that time on would be on his head."

"Come, let's go out on the bridge. Here comes 'General Opportunity,' referring to a former confederate officer who was coming toward us. 'I do not like his way of fighting, either during the war or since. He reminds me of Fayette McMillan, from Scott county, who never lost an opportunity for himself. Being a member of congress, the sheriff invited him to occupy a privileged seat on the scaffold at an execution. The case was a very celebrated one, and thousands were present to witness the final tragedy."

"After all the preliminaries were finished and the sheriff was about to pull the black cap over the prisoner's face he asked if he had anything to say. 'Nothing,' said the poor man in a most heart-rending tone. McMillan jumped from his seat, advanced, bowed to the prisoner and said: 'Fellow citizens, my friends, the culprit, has kindly consented that I may occupy a moment of his time, and I take the opportunity to say that I shall again be a candidate for a seat in the United States congress."

Gen. Wise was in the habit of expressing his sentiments in language so emphatic as to pain the conscience of Gen. Lee, who said to him, 'Gen. Wise, you know the regulations in regard to profanity as well as I do. Cannot you break yourself of the habit?' Wise replied: 'Gen. Lee, you are a Washington to perfection, and your whole life is an example to the rest of us. But I'm not selfish; I'm perfectly willing for you and Jackson to do the praying for the whole army, but DO let me do the cussing for one small brigade."

FIRST CHRISTIAN SERVICE IN A GOVERNMENT SCHOOL

Rev. Charles M. Eames Dho is in the Missionary Work in China Writes of Meeting.

Rev. Charles M. Eames whose is located at Esining Shantung China has written of the first christian service in a China government school as follows:

Esining Shantung, China, January 7, 1913.
Even two years ago had some one suggested that the foreign pastor and his helpers would be invited into a government school to preach the Gospel he would not have thought it possible and yet that is what has happened this fall.
Although this city is located in the Province of Shantung part of our field to the south extends into the Province of Kiang, su. This fall the itinerator went into the country for six weeks of class work. One of our classes was held about a mile from Peng hsien City which is the county seat and since the Republic came in, quite a military enter. We had scarcely landed in the little village where our church located when a teacher of the Government school in the city and one of the military officials called. The official was dressed in full military costume—even to the canteen at his belt. The teacher we found had been to school in the south and was a member of the Baptist church. He was the only Christian in the whole school. The call was very pleasant and we were very glad to return it the next day.

On the third day a note came from the city saying that the teacher would like to bring some student to church on the Sabbath. Again we were very pleased for never before had we received a visit from the government students. We reserved seats for them and had some special hymns printed to distribute. One was a patriotic song with the name for Emperor and other like terms changed to suit the Republican phraseology. Soon the visitors appeared. All the members of the Faculty except one and about 40 of the students came. They made a fine appearance. All had their queues cut, wore foreign hats, and semi-foreign clothes. It was probably the first Christian service most of them had ever attended. The order and attention was perfect. The chapel was crowded to its utmost capacity and it was altogether a very encouraging service.

At the close the teachers respectfully invited us to visit their school in the city. This we did two days later. I should say, however, that they did not stop at a verbal invitation but on Monday sent us a written invitation and even gave us texts! The foreigner was given one which might be translated. "The vigor (or enthusiasm) of unity." The Chinese helper was asked to speak on "The doctrine (or teaching) of Christ." The school by the way is held in an old temple, also used formerly as an examination hall, by those aspiring to a Chinese degree. They told us that the idols from all the temples in the city had been pitched into a ditch. Indeed it's shabby respect that the old idols get now.

When we arrived at the school the teachers received us cordially and after drinking tea we were ushered into the large hall where the students about fifty more from the lower school, and quite a number of the gentry who had been especially invited to attend. The head of the school board acted as chairman of the meeting. The program was written on a black-board and so each speaker was introduced the boys rose in a body and then sat quietly to hear him—or rather they punctuated his remarks with hand clapping and heartily applauded at the close. It seemed equally proper to them to applaud a patriotic or a religious sentiment. When we had sung several hymns and several of us had spoken we called on some of them to make remarks and one of their teachers who makes not the slightest pretense to Christianity came forward and in a dry speech addressed the students. He said he knew little of Christianity but implied that we were on the right track and he seconded all that we had said. The singing and talking had continued until late in the afternoon but even then we could not go out must remain for light refreshments and further conversation on the Republic, etc. When we finally got away it was nearly dark, and as we walked back across the fields our hearts were light and we thanked God for a new and rich experience.

As far as we know this is the first time Christians have ever preached in a government school in this section. And we must remember too that there was only one Christian in that school—in fact not more than four in the whole city. Moreover we went there on their own solicitation and after a cordial written invitation. China is changing ever faster than we right here on the Mississippi field can realize. Hostility to Christianity seems almost entirely to have disappeared and now witness for Christ is welcomed almost anywhere.

Charles M. Eames.

She was united in marriage to Alexander Berry February 12, 1849, and they were the parents of nine children: Mrs. Mary J. Bush of Murrayville; Mrs. Sarah Vertrees of Beatrice, Neb.; Amanda, deceased; Mrs. Martha E. Eades, deceased; G. R. Berry of Merritt; Mrs. Elma E. Funk, deceased; Mrs. Electa L. Mrs. Berry was converted at the age of 20 years under the preaching of Abel Scott, at the school house near where now stands the Mauvalsterre Baptist church. She had been, in feeble health for some years and at times a great sufferer, but always manifested a prayerful and uncomplaining spirit. Not having the privilege of public worship for a number of years, it was always a great pleasure to welcome a minister of the gospel and to have them pray with her and to the members of the family who last attended her she expressed her readiness for the great change whenever it should come.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church at Merritt, in charge of Rev. Scott Peak, assisted by Rev. V. P. Mitchell. The services were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Obermeyer, Mrs. Al. Morris, Norman Campbell and Al. Morris, and the flowers, which were many and beautiful, were cared for by Mrs. Norma Cassell and Mrs. Newton Peters. Interment was made in the Gillham cemetery and the bearers were Russel Berry, Worth Berry, Carl Berry, Gerald Carpenter, Roy Clark and Montie Funk, all grandsons of the deceased.

SHOW GROWTH OF POULTRY BUSINESS IN UNITED STATES

D. T. Hendlich Presented Interesting Facts in Address Made to Poultry Fanciers of Madison County.

At the annual meeting of the Madison County Poultry association held in Alton at the Illinois hotel, D. T. Hendlich of this city was one of the speakers. Others who had part in the exercises were State Senator Beall of Alton, Mrs. J. G. Kelly of White Hall, and H. G. Whitte of Greenfield. In his address Mr. Hendlich said:

"Ladies and Fellow Fanciers: It is an honor and pleasure to be with you tonight. I do not feel like the statesman who said, 'When I arose to speak someone hurled a base and cowardly egg at me and it struck me in the breast.' And what kind of an egg might that be? asked a fresh young man. 'A base cowardly egg,' explained the statesman, 'hits you and then runs.'"

"It was twenty-six or twenty-seven years ago when I attended my first regular poultry show here in Alton. The old veteran judge and editor, B. N. Pierce, and Frank Hitchcock acted as judges. I. K. Welch dropped in during the week to see of the $100 cockerel sold to Mrs. R. A. Judy, then residing at Edwardsville, had won the blue ribbon. It had. The display of Light Brahmas at this show was equal to any I have ever seen since. Styles and fashions change, and while the lordly Light Brahmas still hold fancy of many breeders, their plumage is being duplicated in the Columbian Wyandottes and Columbian Plymouth Rocks with the disadvantage of the feathered legs.

"Progress since that time has been made along every line of poultry culture. Today we have more than 80 poultry journals, nine of which are published in Illinois. These, with the numerous farm journals, have carried the news and growth of the industry to millions of homes. The experiment stations send out thousands of leaflets imparting valuable information, practical information, to all who ask for them.

"Last season there were eighty-three poultry exhibits held in Illinois aside from the exhibits at the fall fairs. There were an average of forty shows for each state throughout the central states. There are sixty-seven incubator factories in the United States, eight of which are in Illinois. The United States census for 1910 gives 295,880,190 head of poultry on the farms in this country. Iowa leading with 23,482,880, Illinois coming second with 21,409,835, and Missouri third with 20,897,208. These three states with the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota, eleven states in all, have more than the other 38 states by 18,835,332 head. In this census no farm under three acres was taken into consideration. Ninety-four per cent of the farms are listed as having poultry. And it is a well known fact that small breeders in cities and villages produce hundreds of thousands of head of which no record is taken.

"Illinois has more breeders of standard poultry than any other state in the union. And while rank only second in numbers, in our national poultry association which has over four thousand members, we should rank first. Let us take pride in our state, let every poultry organization belong to the national body, let every individual breeder of standard bred poultry become a life member by paying a fee of $10. This will keep you in touch with advanced ideas and the progressive spirit and make you feel honored by having a place with the best breeders in the country. It will give you confidence in your fellow fanciers and make you more willing to protect them against fraud and deception and see that every one gets a fair deal.

"Last, but not least, every Illinois breeder should belong to our state association, so that in time, we may get from the state what we are entitled to as breeders of live stock. Our rank now, in the matter of state appropriation and equipment for experiment work, is away down to thirty-third place. This will not do for Illinois, but until we all get together, what can you hope for.

"The legislative committee has prepared a bill to be presented at this session, in which an appropriation of $50,000 is asked for necessary work. If granted we will rank and class with other states in the place rightfully belonging to Illinois.

"Poultry in the United States is now called the 'Billion Dollar Industry.' Next to the corn production comes poultry and eggs. This industry is but in its infancy, yet in less than forty years it has grown to be such a factor that the government is beginning to take notice. We draw men and women from all ranks and walks of life. As they delve into the mysterious of poultry raising they find food for deed thought careful study and a field for practical work never before realized; they find an aesthetic and artistic value equal to that in any other field.

"When we consider that from the little red jungle fowl, we have cultivated into being over one hundred varieties of birds that challenge the admiration of man and woman; when we see that, under the care and skill of fanciers and breeders, they have been molded into form, perfect, each of its kind, and into plumage of such various shades and colors and markings that no artist can equal, we find that the joys and beauties of our domestic fowls equal those of the wild birds that have not felt the touch of man's hand or known his guidance. And as I look down the vista of time, I see where the American hen will be engraved on our coins, the emblem of peace, faithfulness and industry; woven into the fabric of our flag. She will be honored as the greatest contributor of pure food for the well and the sick, and be cultivated for her egg supply, her beauty of form, her beauty of plumage. The American hen, like the American woman, demands notice. She contributes her best services uncomplainingly, she is busy from morn to night; she takes what man provides for her; she rejoices in good deeds, and, when happy, she talks the live long day."

HOW TO RESIST

Chronic Coughs and Colds.

Strong vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; it's only when the system is run down, and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your run down condition again?

Mrs. Hivia Parham of East Durham, N. C., says: "I took Vinol for a chronic cough which had lasted two years and the cough not only disappeared, but it built up my strength as well."

The reason Vinol is so efficacious in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

Principal Hiett of Bushnell, one of the judges at the Millikin-Whipple academy debate, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worthington. Principal Rinker of Canton, another judge, was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cochran. President Rammelkamp attended the meeting of the central division of the Illinois Teachers' association at Springfield on Friday.

Prof. Rollin H. Tanner of the department of classics spent the Easter vacation in St. Louis.

At the recent meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools in Chicago the commission of accredited schools reported a list of the approved colleges of the middle west. For the state of Illinois the commission approved unqualifiedly the standard and equipment of only five colleges in addition to the three universities. Illinois college was one of the institutions that received the unqualified endorsement of the North Central association.

President Rammelkamp recently received an interesting letter from Mr. C. M. Eames, '94, who is a missionary in China. He described a rather significant occasion when he was invited to preach in a government school. Mr. Eames' letter seems to indicate that the new republic is very friendly to the work of the Christian missionaries.

Professor Leavitt of the department of chemistry delivered an illustrated lecture last Monday before the Club on "The World's Most Important Chemical." The lecture was delivered in the chemical laboratory and in the course of the lecture Professor Leavitt performed two experiments showing the production of sulphuric acid, the chemical in question.

LARGEST OF LABOR UNIONS.

London, March 29.—The National Union of Railwaymen, which came into existence today through the merger of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, the United Pointsmen and Signalmen's Society and the General Railway Workers' union, is the largest labor union in the United Kingdom, and probably the largest in the world, its membership being 188,000 and its resources $2,230,000. The amalgamation of the several societies into one organization is the first instance of any trade union adopting the syndicalistic idea of a union covering all sections of an industry, in preference to the old system of organization by craft or trade. The principal object, of course, is to make it possible for the new society to call out practically every person in the employment of railway companies in the event of a strike.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, March 29.—The calling of a caucus of the Progressives of the house for organization next Wednesday comes as a forcible reminder of the fact that the congress about to assemble will be composed of three distinct parties, for the first time in the history of the nation. The Progressives are expected to name Victor Murdock of Kansas as their choice for the speakership. The Republicans of the house will caucus Saturday and will name Representative Mann of Illinois for speaker.

Municipal elections involving important local issues will take place during the week in Chicago, St. Louis and several other large cities. Forty cities and towns of Wisconsin will vote on the anti-saloon question, while the voters of Fargo, N. D., Racine, Wis., Durham, N. C., and several other places will ballot on a proposal to adopt the commission form of government.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Thos. R. Marshall, Mrs. Champ Clark and the wives of the cabinet officers are to be the guests of honor at a breakfast in the capital on Saturday. The affair is to be non-partisan in character and is designed to give the Washington official and unofficial circles an opportunity to meet the wife of the president, vice president and other women of the new administration.

The wedding of Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and Dr. Richard Derby of New York city will take place Friday morning in the Episcopal church at Oyster Bay. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Roosevelt residence on Sagamore Hill.

The sister ship of the Imperator, the largest ship in the world, is to be launched Thursday at Hamburg and will be christened Europa. The Europa will be 950 feet long and 100 beam. Both vessels are to be employed in the transatlantic service of the Hamburg-American line.

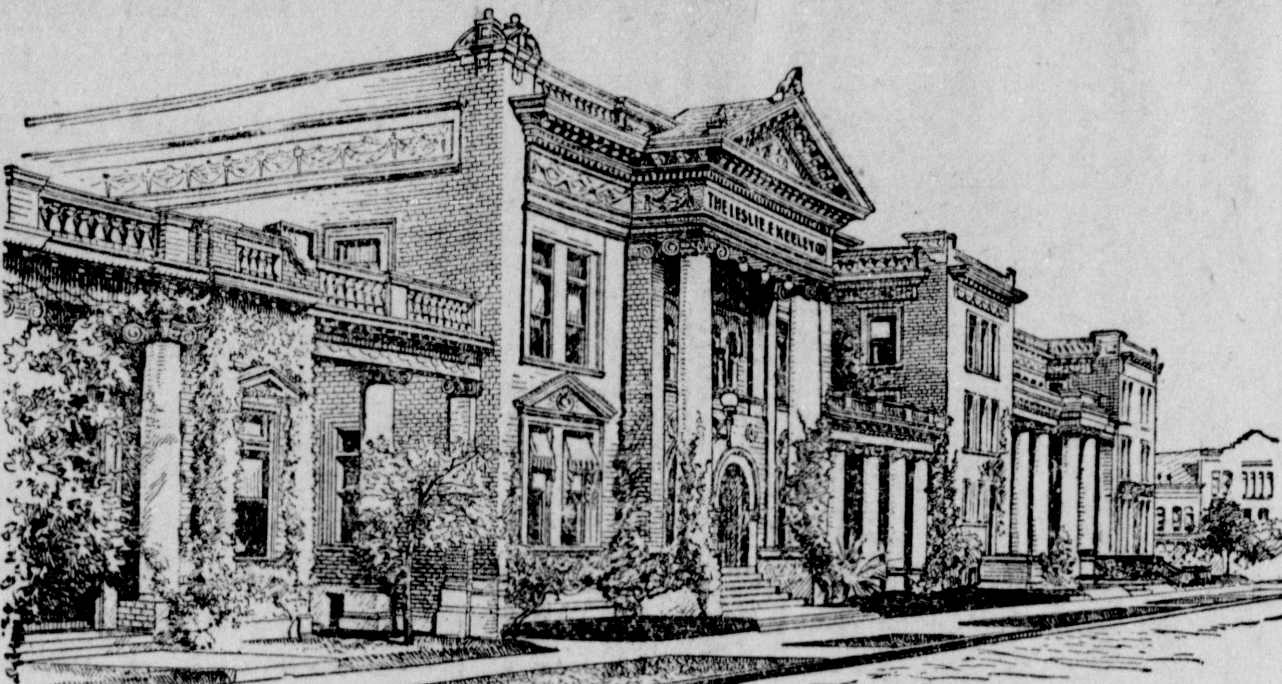

The professional baseball season will be ushered in Tuesday with the first championship games of the Pacific Coast League. Portland will open at San Francisco, Vernon at Los Angeles and Oakland at Sacramento.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science will be held in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday and will be devoted principally to a discussion of "The Cost of Living in the United States." Other notable gatherings of the week will be the Episcopal Church congress at Charleston, S. C., and the Mississippi Suffrage conference at St. Louis.

The Keeley Institute, Dwight, Illinois
Beautiful Location. Delightful Surroundings. Finest Accommodations. Fireproof.
Equipped With Every Modern Convenience for Comfort and Safety.

In the last 30 years 400,000 men have been saved from the drink habit by the Keeley Treatment. They were hopeless, despairing—down and out! NOW they have happy homes and families—they have taken a new, fresh start. The sun is shining again!

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley startled the world, thirty-two years ago, with this famous statement. Physicians were incredulous. Millions jeered and scoffed. BUT IT WAS TRUE!

Nearly everyone knows—now—that it is useless to abuse or upbraid a man who drinks to excess. His own conscience does that daily, hourly. He is a sick man and can no more cure himself than can a man suffering from smallpox or brain fever.

Yet he can be saved! You, who read this, can help him! WE CAN CURE HIM!

What, Then, Is the Liquor Disease?

It is an altered condition of the nerve cells, caused by the excessive use of alcohol, wherein the nerves have become trained to feed on it, and will not do their work except under its influence.

The "craving" or appetite for liquor is not the disease. It is merely the symptom of the disease just as a cough is a symptom of some irritation or inflammation.

When the disease is removed the craving for drink disappears just as the cough disappears when the cause of the trouble is removed.

The World-Famous "Keeley Cure"

The Keeley treatment—known the world around as the "Keeley Cure"—is simply the application of reconstructive nerve tonics which remove the artificial alcoholic appetite of the nerve cells and restore them to a natural, healthy condition.

We also cure Opium, Morphine and other drug addictions. The drug is withdrawn gradually and there is no shock, collapse, prostration or sickness. Full particulars in plain, sealed envelope on request.

The treatment produces no sickness or nausea. It requires no restriction or confinement of patients. It leaves absolutely no ill effects.

The Keeley treatment can be had ONLY at the Keeley Institute, Dwight, Illinois, or at its official branches, of which there is one or more in almost every state.

Any claims to furnish the Keeley treatment in any other way are false.

Results of the "Keeley Cure"

The effect of the Keeley remedies is to absolutely destroy the craving and appetite for drink. The man who takes the Keeley treatment is no longer called on to fight an appetite. The desire and necessity for alcohol are gone.

And the cure lasts! Hear what men say who have been saved!

"This is the twentieth anniversary of my reincarnation and release from the bondage of the Demon Rum. Completely cured—the accursed appetite never to return."

"This is the eighteenth anniversary of my graduation at Dwight. No matter what rises, I never think of whiskey."

"I took the cure twelve years ago—Drink is no longer any temptation to me."

"Words cannot express what I feel in my soul for the God-given saving institute at Dwight, Ill. I haven't the least desire for drink any more than if I had never tasted it."

We have many, many thousands of letters like the above.

Full Information on Request

We have a number of booklets and other printed matter explaining full details of the Keeley treatment. These we will be glad to send, on request, to inquirers.

Information is mailed in plain, sealed envelope.

All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

YOU can SAVE that brother, relative, friend, employee from ruin, disgrace and death!

Will you do it?

Home remedies are prepared and sold by us for the cure of the Tobacco Habit and many forms of nervous troubles. Send for printed matter today.

We have a Chicago office, Suite 906 Rector Building, 79 West Monroe Street, where arrangements may be made.

J. W. WALTON. H. D. DOBYS.

The Secretary received a telegram late Saturday evening that Mr. George Charleston, President of the Chamber of Commerce of Chicago, had addressed the members of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday. The message gave no further particulars except that it would be followed by a letter of explanation. Effort was made to obtain a substitute speaker from Peoria of Springfield but this was impossible because of such a short notice.

This is quite a disappointment as all arrangements were completed for the luncheon. It will now be postponed indefinitely so that it will not conflict with the mass meeting to be held this week on the light question.

President Andrews called the special meeting of the Directors to order on Thursday afternoon promptly at 3:45 p. m. All but three were present and one of those was out of the city. The President will be glad to have any members of the association meet with them at any time.

An Important Industry. Over a narrow stairway on East State street, appears a small sign reading thus "Coppes & Frank, Makers of Simplex Display System." Quite likely you never have noticed it. It is a diminutive inscription. It is the name of a firm that is doing business in every state in the union. Their products are sold by agencies in Canada and in Cuba. And in a few months a well known importer will be selling to agencies over all Europe. This industry from a small beginning grew until now their total monthly sales amount to over $5,000. They manufacture the simple system for displaying laces, etc., and hold patterns on fixtures as used in dry goods stores. Their total sales to E. W. Woolworth & Co., alone amounted to over $20,000. Such well known firms as Marshall, Field & Co., Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Ely Walker & Co., St. Louis, Louis Stein & Co., Cincinnati, are their largest buyers, with purchases amounting into the thousands.

This concern is handicapped for lack of room, and should be recognized as one of Jacksonville's thriving industries. Their output which will exceed $60,000 in value was not included in the figure published last week of about $2,214,000 annual sales. Get Together Dinner at Decatur. Last Thursday night 304 business men of Decatur sat down to a big get-together banquet at which Mr. E. F. Trefz of Chicago was the principal speaker. A few words of his address are as follows: "I was here last fall and met such a cordial reception that in 48 later addresses in as many cities before civic bodies and organizations I never forgot to make mention of Decatur and her live wires."

It will be remembered that just before his visit to Decatur he was here in Jacksonville and talked to a mere handful of our business men. His coming was advertised well in the papers, but many of us were unconcerned to hear one of the most eloquent orators on commercial organization work. He remarked to the secretary before he left that "Jacksonville, the historic and the beautiful has much to be proud of, but that he always had heard how dead she was." His statement was not at all untrue, but the day is certainly wanting when we will permit such kind of advertisement to go out from our proud city.

Among other things he said at Decatur: "It is a time now when no city can hope to advance without the right sort of people and men. Take two cities with the same advantages and wherever you see one outstrip the other, it is always the kind of men in the city that are forging ahead, who make it lead."

COUNTY VISITORS.

Franklin.

Franklin visitors in Jacksonville Saturday included in their number Misses Lola Austin and Vivian Reinbach, Miss Mary Wright, Frank Shadle, Mrs. James Franksberger, A. H. Wright, Mrs. G. J. Dowell and daughter Miss Martha, Miss Dorothy Sargent, J. L. Seymour, Frank Tribble, William Hills and Bird Anderson.

Joy Prairie.

Visitors from Joy Prairie in the city yesterday were Richard Stanley, John Johnson, Jr. and Mrs. Charles Howard, Herbert Challener, Harve Hansmeyer, Charles Wilkie, Edward Ward, Miss Ruby Dewees, Samuel Wood, Henry and Albert Higgs.

Lynnville.

Lynnville was represented in the city Saturday by Mrs. John Sayre and son Roy, Roscoe Stauffer, Lorenzo Shurtleff, William Coumbs, William Coultas, Joseph Elleg, Len Pearnay, Hugh, A. B. McKinney and daughter, Miss Beatrice, Miss Nettie Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heaton and family.

Literberry.

Among the visitors in the city from Literberry Saturday were George Richardson, Thomas Jewsbury, David Clark, M. M. Grum, William Murray, Edward Litter, Oliver Lindsay, William Decker, Willard Young, Charles Gaines, Earl Myers, John Hitchens, Claude Rudisill and William Norman.

Crackers Bend.

Crackers Bend visitors in the city yesterday were John Stanley, Walter Brainer, Charles Brainer, Harry Oglet, Elmer Smith.

Concord.

Visitors from Concord yesterday were Lewis Rexroat, James Hacker,

We must cease our quibblings and knocking and go to work. We are dealing with no hopeless situation. In fact, in many ways, we have it over Decatur, but without some of their kind of spirit.

Our Light Question. Commissioner Brennan has been thoroughly investigating the question of proper lighting for this city and has estimated that it would require a bond issue of $50,000 to install a modern and up-to-date light plant.

This proposition deserves the careful consideration of all the voters from an unprejudiced standpoint. If we cannot find the time, we should take the time, and accept Mr. Brennan's kind invitation to visit the electric light plant and acquaint ourselves with the conditions.

Court House Repairs.

The court house of Morgan county is one of the most dignified public buildings which Jacksonville can boast of. The county commissioners for a few hundred dollars could add much to the beautifying of the building, by painting some of the outside woodwork and repairing some of the cornices which are breaking loose.

All these little things if promptly attended to will prevent large expenditures in the future.

Beautiful Gardens.

Chas. DeSilva, who devotes all his vacations and leisure hours to studying, applying the underlying principle of scientific gardening is much interested in seeing all the vacant lots turned into beautiful gardens. He is willing to give much of his time and services for the helping of the organizing garden clubs. Minneapolis is a striking example of a city which did such work, and not only were the old vacant lots covered with tin cans and grown up weeds, converted into attractive flower beds and gardens, but thousands of dollars were realized from the sale of garden products.

A Clean Up Week.

Mayor S. A. Frazier of Centralia recently issued a proclamation designating the days from March 16 to April 1st as clean up week for the city. A committee of one dozen members consisting of representatives from the Commercial club, the Women's club, the schools etc., worked with the city council. They issued "ten commandments" for a cleaner Centralia, and all the citizens have been warned to obey them.

It might be well for Jacksonville to follow Centralia's example. Such things advertise a city to the extent that they are made mention of in metropolitan papers and in the leading monthly magazines.

Promiscuous Advertising.

The promiscuous advertising resolution which was passed by the Chamber of Commerce this week will be printed on cards and distributed to all the members. As far as it is possible, the members should comply with the ruling which their organization will try to enforce. This will work hardship on some and it will be a relief for others, but it will protect the merchants from many of the demands made upon his treasury. Let the secretary and the committee investigate the proposition and you will be saved time and money.

Chautauque Envelopes.

This week the secretary will take orders for a special envelope advertising this year's educational festival. If 100,000 envelopes are ordered they can be sold to you at $1.30 per thousand without your business card. There are few better advertising schemes than a neatly printed envelope which is sent daily far and near advertising this important event this year in Jacksonville.

BIRTHDAY OF CARDINAL GOTTL.

Rome, March 23.—The venerable Cardinal Gottl, prefect of the propaganda, entered upon his 80th year today. The position which Cardinal Gottl has held for more than ten years is the most important in the gift of the pope and his influence at the Vatican is second to none. Were it not for his advanced age the cardinal undoubtedly would be considered as a candidate for the throne of St. Peter in the event of the passing of Pope Pius X. As is, he probably will exert a potent influence in the selection of the next pontiff. Cardinal Gottl's ability as a diplomat is well known, while his knowledge of canon law is asserted by many to be superior to that of any other member of the sacred college.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

It has been a Blue Spots. have been studied by scientists who mysterious Navajo Indians that the at the base of its spot. The spot is sometimes as small as a dime and sometimes as big as an hand. It closely resembles a bruise, but it is due entirely to an extraordinary pigmentation. The spot may disappear before the child is five years of age but always returns later in life when it is the case. The scientists have come to the conclusion that this spot is positive of the Mongolian origin of Navajo. And they also make the astonishing assertion that it is present in many European and American children whose parents can trace their genealogy for generations back and are certain that there has been no admixture of Mongolian blood.—Exchange.

The Doctor's Prescription.

In the Woman's Home Companion appears a story in which is related an account of a prescription given to an exceedingly stingy farmer by a doctor. The farmer took the prescription to the druggist. The druggist told the farmer that he could not fill the prescription and said to the farmer, "If you will read it yourself you will see why," whereupon the farmer adjusted his glasses and read to his astonishment: "One hired girl to be taken as soon as you can get her and kept constantly on hand thereafter."

"A few new dresses that the wives of your hired men wouldn't be ashamed to wear and a new hat and wrap to replace those you bought her last—thirteen years ago."

"All to be furnished with at least as much daily consideration as you bestow upon your cattle."

Iron With Their Feet.

One of the most curious sights which I beheld in Cairo was men ironing with their feet, says a writer in the Wide World Magazine. They had not been mixing their drinks. It is simply a custom of the country. These men were employed in the native tailoring establishments. Except for a long iron handle, the irons were shaped like the ordinary flatiron, only larger. A solid block of wood rested on the top of the iron, and on this the men placed one foot, guiding the iron in the direction desired by means of the handle. For the sake of convenience the ironing boards were raised only a few inches above the ground. The men ironed with great rapidity, and, however strange the method may seem to our ideas, it certainly does the work very well and expeditiously.

Why He Did Not Marry.

As a reason for not marrying Brahms once wrote to a friend: "At the time when I should have wished to marry my companions were either hissed at or, at any rate, very coolly received. I knew their worth, though, and that sooner or later the page would be turned, and in unmarried solitude I never really took my reverses to heart. But to be questioned by a wife at such moments, to have her imploding eyes anxiously fixed upon me, to hear her ask, 'Again a fiasco? No; that I could never have borne, for, however much she loved me and believed in me, I could not have expected her to have unwavering faith in my subsequent victory.' And I she attempted to console me! Up! I can't even think of it. It would have been little less than hell!"

His Synonym For a Cold Retreat.

In the sixth grade the teacher was questioning a boy about Napoleon's disastrous invasion of Russia and the subsequent retreat from Moscow.

"What did the French do then?" she asked.

"They ran away," said the boy. "Yes, that is what they did," said the teacher, "but 'ran away' is hardly the correct phrase to use. What should you have said?"

The boy's face lighted up with understanding.

"They beat it!" he exclaimed proudly.—Kansas City Star.

How He Praised Taine.

A LOAF OF BREAD

To Some People Means a Certain Number of Ounces of Dough Put in a Pan and Baked

To us it means this: A food product that should represent the highest possible standard of quality. Time was, when people only bought bread when there was no time for baking at home. But in the past few years there has been a growing sentiment in favor of "buying bread." We believe that the Ideal Bakery is largely responsible for this change in our city and community and attribute the growing demand for our product to the following facts:

We employ only thoroughly competent bakers.
We use only one of the highest grade spring wheat flours on the market: "Ethen Allen."
We wrap our loaves in moisture proof and germ proof waxed wrappers.
As a result of this you have:

Big Opportunity to Profit on Increased Value of Government Irrigated Land

Time after time land in the great prosperous west has jumped from a nominal value to hundreds of dollars an acre when the first railroad tracks opened it up to the markets of the world. That is what is likely to happen in the Big Horn Basin of Wyoming.

Sell there under proper irrigation has for years proven itself a money making business. Making farmers rich with bountiful crops of fruit, alfalfa, grain, sugar beets, garden truck, etc. All it needed was an outlet to the market. Now the railroad is about to put a line straight into the heart of this wealthy territory. Those who get in before the track is laid will reap the big profits.

You can now file on an 80-acre government irrigated homestead at no cost except the actual cost of the water right—and you are given twelve years to pay for that. Light payments the first five years. No taxes for three years. So you can get started with very little capital. The climate is mild and healthful; neighbors, towns, churches and schools nearby.

This is one of the best chances I ever saw in all my experience. Write and ask anything you want to know about it and I will send you full information, illustrated booklet, map, etc. My service is free. Send me a postal quick.

McCARTY DECIDES TO QUIT THE STAGE

ANNOUNCES PLAN TO RESUME BOXING AT AN EARLY DATE.

Will Try to Convince Sports That He is Really Entitled to the White Heavy-Weight Championship — Will First Meet Jim Flynn at Philadelphia.

By James J. Corbett,
Former Heavy-Weight Champion of the World.

(Written for Jacksonville Journal).
Luther McCarty has wisely decided to retire from the stage for the time being, and will try to convince the sports that his is a just claim to the title of white heavy-weight champion. I believe a great majority of the fans of the country will agree with me that Billy McCarty's big youngster is one of the most promising prospects of the present day crop of heavies. That's all that can be said of the lot—they are "prospects," and that lets them out. But anyway we will all be glad to see Luther back on the job.

McCarty was cleaning up the "hopes" one after the other when Tom McCarty gave him a gold belt and proclaimed him "champion." Since then he has done nothing but travel around on his "rep"—and I guess it paid pretty well for a while, too. But he found that his refusal to accept any of the many challenges hurled in his direction was decreasing his popularity, hence the announcement of his plan to resume boxing at an early date.

Luther will confine his efforts for the time being to the lesser lights. He will first meet Jim Flynn in a six round bout in Philadelphia. A week later he takes on Frank Moran over the same distance in Pittsburgh. Carl Morris is scheduled as the next victim at Kansas City early in May, and if everything breaks right May 24 (Queen Victoria's birthday), will find him boxing ten rounds with Tommy Burns at Calgary, Alberta. These four bouts will net Luther a nice piece of money. And there is small chance of his getting licked—that's the chief consideration.

Jess Willard and Gunboat Smith, McCarty's most persistent challengers, are to be passed up until later on. While in San Francisco recently I was told that Jim Coffroth had McCarty's word to box at his club on the fourth of July, and it is thought that Willard will be given the preference over Smith. The Gunboat will likely have to wait until Luther and Jess have settled their differences.

Victories over Flynn, Moran, Morris and Burns will not strengthen McCarty's position as "White" champion. The public will not accept him as title holder until he has disposed of both Willard and Smith. Of this pair I think Willard will prove the hardest nut for McCarty to crack. On what the big Kansan showed against Luther in their round bout last summer, when both were green as grass, he has considerable ability. However, the sports will welcome McCarty's decision to get back in harness with great acclaim. With Luther on the job it is just possible that a man worthy of the title of champion may be developed before the summer is over.

Since Gunboat Smith flattened Bombardier Wells in a couple of rounds several local critics have been touting him as a regular world beater. Just how the Gunboat, game fighter that he undoubtedly is, comes in for all this praise I am at a loss to figure. The recent battle at the Garden did not stamp Smith as a great fighter so much as it did Wells a decidedly poor one. That everyone was deceived by Wells and his flashy showing against Palzer last summer was quite natural as Palzer at that time was looked upon as the very best white heavy-weight in the business. Luther McCarty proved otherwise a little later on, but still the sensational battle Wells and Palzer had put up was fresh in the memory of the fans.

The Gunboat's record to date does not make him the "logical" opponent for McCarty. The critics who are boosting Smith so enthusiastically have apparently forgotten the fact that Jesse Willard not only held Luther even last summer, but went it one better and shaded McCarty's champion. On that battle alone the big Kansan has a better claim on McCarty than the Gunboat or anyone else.

Willard's record is more impressive than Smith's, to my mind. The Gunboat is a very crude fighting machine, say what you will. Of skill and science he knows little; he has a mighty punch, that's true, but that is the most that can be said for him. Willard would, I believe, give Gunboat a great deal of trouble. Smith would have a hard job trying to land those overhand swings on the elongated Kansan. Willard, besides his advantage in height, has a natural defense against the slugging, swinging type of miller. He illustrated this forcibly in the battle with Soldier Kearns, whose style is similar to the Gunboat's.

Smith's chances would not be so great opposed to McCarty or Willard as against the Bombardier. Neither is afflicted with a glass jaw. To the contrary they are both as they come these days, and better equipped physically and mentally than Jim Buckley's candidate.

The Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst reported the recent Jack Britton-Young Brown contest for the New York Evening Journal, but his story failed to score much of a hit with the readers of that publication. Compared with the stuff turned out by the Journal's regular "fight" man the Reverend Doctor's efforts was a bloomer. It is extremely doubtful if he gets another such assignment in the future.

Dr. Parkhurst, among other things said: "I wish very much that the people of my own church could have been with me, etc." Evidently the bout made a big hit with him. At that it is likely had he canvassed the house thoroughly he would have found quite a few members of his congregation among those present. Lovers of boxing matches are not all "low-brows."

Freddy Welsh, the English light-weight champion, is due to arrive in New York some time today (Saturday). He plans a short tour in vaudeville on this side before setting sail for Willie Ritchie, over whom he already holds a decision on points.

Basing his claim on this "win" from Ritchie, Freddy and his American representative, Harry Pollock, are claiming the world's light-weight championship. Of course, both are wise to the fact that any such pretension on Welsh's part is ridiculous. When Freddie beat Willie the latter was not the champion. But it is good for considerable advertising and that's what the boys are after.

Willie Ritchie is the world's light weight champion. There is absolutely no flaw in his title. He can trace his claim back to George "Kid" Lavigne who won it from Dick Burge the then English title-holder. Lavigne passed it on to Frank Erne, who lost to Gans. Then Nelson, Wolgast and Ritchie in turn won the honors. While Welsh regained the English championship by beating Matt Wells in a return match and has also outpointed Hughie Mehegan, Australia's champion, he has never fought for the American title.

The mention of Kid Lavigne's name reminds me that someone sent me a newspaper clipping recently quoting the former light-weight champion as follows:

"Championship battles should be finish affairs always. I lost my title in a limited round contest with Frank Erne, although I felt confident I could have won in a longer bout."

Lavigne was a great little fighter. Probably one of the best of his weight ever known. But his ideas do not fit in very well with present day methods of conducting boxing exhibitions. The days of finish battles are over so far as this country is concerned. Science has the call over brute strength in modern pugilism. Or at least that is the aim of those who promote the sport. And for that matter twenty or twenty-five rounds of boxing are ample to settle the question of superiority, even with a title at stake.

It is fast becoming apparent that boxing in this country is bound to triumph over its enemies and eventually be placed on a basis firmer than ever before in the history of the sport. As proof of all this the attention of the reader is called to the many favorable bills legalizing boxing exhibitions that have recently been passed in a number of states. It appears to be only a question of a very short time before Illinois falls in line, which means that the army of Chicago sport lovers will not be compelled to hike to Indiana or Wisconsin every time they want to see a boxing exhibition. As goes New York, so goes the country.

"CY" YOUNG HAS A BIRTHDAY.

Pauli, Ohio, March 29.—"Cy" Young, the veteran baseball pitcher who retired from the Boston Nationals last year with a record for longer service than any other man who ever played in the big leagues, received messages of congratulations from some of his former team mates today on the occasion of his 46th birthday anniversary. Since his retirement Young has lived on his farm near here. The farm is one of the finest in Ohio and was bought with his earnings as a ball player. Though the old veteran has no apparent intention or desire to resume his career on the diamond he continues to take a keen interest in the game and never fails to read the daily news from the retaining camps.

When England Was Drunken.

In an article in the London Lancet on "Drunkenness and the Physiological Effect of Alcohol," Dr. Charles Mercer draws this picture of conditions in England before it became "a sober nation." "In those days the doctor was often half seas over when he attended his drunken patient; judge, counsel and attorneys pursued their vocations in court in a prevailing atmosphere of hot coppers. The prime minister went drunk to the house of commons, where he was attacked by the leader of the opposition, also drunk, while order was kept by a speaker who was half seas over. There was no excise on spirits, and the coarser kinds of distilled liquors were ridiculously cheap. As you passed along the by streets of London, and perhaps of other great cities, you might read the legend hung out over the drink cellars. 'Here you may get drunk for a penny; dead drunk and clean straw for tuppence.'"

Long Distance Laundry.

Some of the smart set Frenchmen of today send their linen to London to be washed. Their ancestors used to go even further afield in search of good laundry work. So far back as the sixteenth century Frenchmen had their washing done in Holland, where the soft water of the dikes was supposed to impart a special gloss to linen. This practice appears to have lasted until the close of the eighteenth century, for Sebastian Mercier, in his "Tableau de Paris," published shortly before the French Revolution, protests against the patronage by the rich of the Dutch, to the exclusion of native laundresses. Still more remarkable is the fact mentioned in the "Memoires du Comte de Vaulblanc," that wealthy merchants in Bordeaux used to send their linen all the way to San Domingo to be washed. —London Tatler.

A Spool Trick.

Run a pin its whole length through the middle of a card. Place the card on the end of a spool in such a way as to allow the pin to hang down in the hole in the spool. Hold the spool upright and blow into the open end. However hard you blow, you will not be able to force the card away. If you blow steadily you can even turn the spool downward and the card will still refuse to drop.

The card is held in place by suction. The thin film of air escaping with much force in all directions between the end of the spool and the card presents a smooth surface to which the card adheres as it would to glass, but with greater force, for the film of air is even smoother than glass. The pin serves only to prevent the card from working off at one side. —Youth's Companion.

An Elusive Painting.

I. Carroll Beckwith, the artist, once told a story about a weird painting he happened to run across in a little art shop in Paris. He looked at it for some time with interest, thinking it to be a design for a Persian rug.

"What a nice hearth rug!" he remarked appreciatively to the saleswoman.

"Nonsense!" replied she. "That's not a hearth rug. That's a portrait!" And she proceeded to point out hands and features in what Beckwith was simply a bewildering mass of paint.

"Do you really see all that?" asked Beckwith with admiration.

"Oh, as to seeing it," answered the saleswoman, "you never can tell. Sometimes we see it and sometimes we don't." —New York Post.

Asphalt and an Accident.

Asphalt, with which so many roads are paved, was found by accident. Many years ago in Switzerland natural rock asphalt was discovered, and for more than a century it was used for the purpose of extracting the rich stores of bitumen it contained. In time it was noticed that pieces of rock which fell from the wagons and were crushed by the wheels formed a marvelously fine road surface when assisted by the heat of the sun. A proper road of asphalt rock was then made, following upon the discovery, and in 1854 an experimental roadway was laid in Paris. From that time the use of rock asphalt for the making of roads and pavements has increased and extended to many countries.

He Could Dodge.

"There's nothing slow about Jones," he said reflectively.

The other laughed scornfully. "I guess you never loaned him any money," he said.

"Oh, yes; I have," replied the first speaker. "That's what made me speak that way. I loaned him $10 six months ago, and I haven't been able to catch him since."

Willie Explains.

"Willie," said the teacher, "is there any difference between the words 'sufficient' and 'enough'?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied Willie. "Sufficient is when mamma thinks I've eaten enough pie, and 'enough' is when I think I have eaten sufficient." —Chicago News.

A Little Bit Late.

Blood Poison On The Run

Remarkable Remedy That Drives Every Particle of Poison Completely Out of Your Entire System.

It is simply astonishing the way contagious germs scatter and leave your blood clean and pure.

Poison in the blood used to break out into the most unsightly sores, boils, abscesses and ulcers, but since the introduction of S. S. S. there is no more trouble. And even if it is only a slight attack it would eventually mean loss of hair, loose teeth, sore gums, mucous patches, copper blotches and the most intense degree of agony, if S. S. S. were not used. Of course some cases of Contagious Blood Poison do not exhibit the extreme superficial effect but the trouble is they are apt to do so in just a day. The eyesight fades, the hair falls out, the bones become ulcerated, a thousand and one fierce, unsightly symptoms ensue and then there can be no question as to the nature of the disease.

It is very unfortunate that so many sufferers lose all nerve, self control, and the first thing they do is to throw themselves into the clutches of those who take all their money, fill their veins and arteries with Mercury, Iodine of Potash, Arsenic or other mineral poisons and practically wreck their lives. S. S. S. will give your blood a complete bath, purify it, overcome the danger done by mineral drugs, soothe and strengthen your stomach and in every way restore you completely. Your blood will be rich, red and pure and will stand the most rigid blood test. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store and begin to cure yourself at once. For a book on Blood Poison or for private advice, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 116 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This is one of the greatest private laboratories in the world.

A STRONG REFERENCE.
A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recommendation, indicating character and persistence, which finally secured for him a good position.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

TRADING WAS ACTIVE FOR SATURDAY SESSION

UPWARD MOVEMENT IN STOCKS CONTINUES STRONG.

Demand For Issues in Which Large Short Interest is Believed to Exist Was Urgent—Bank Statement Made the Expected Good Showing.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, March 29.—The upward movement in stocks went forward briskly today. Trading was unusually active for a Saturday session and there was a keen demand for all the leading stocks. The day's gains amounted to 1 to 2 points in many cases. The rise since the beginning of the week reached about 6 points for Reading and Amalgamated,
4 to 5 points for Union Pacific,
Smelting, Lehigh Valley and Canning and 2 to 3 points for a long list of other issues.

The demand for stocks in which a large short interest is believed to exist was urgent. This was particularly true of Reading and Union Pacific.
More cheerful news from the flooded districts and improved conditions in the money market also encouraged operations on the long side. The bank statement made the expected good showing.

MORTUARY

Hanback.

Mrs. R. P. Joy of 867 West State street has received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. Lewis Hanback, formerly Hester A. Cooper, who died last Tuesday at Los Angeles, Calif., from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy. The remains will be taken to Topeka, Kan., where funeral services will be held from the residence of N. E. Berry Tuesday. The Lawrence Daily Journal-World of Lawrence Kan., in speaking of her death says:

"News of the death of Mrs. Lewis Hanback at her temporary home in Los Angeles, California, recalls vividly one of the noble women of the state. Mrs. Hanback was a pioneer who went through all the privations of pioneering. She came to Kansas early and took her place beside her husband, Lewis Hanback, who was one of the strong men of Kansas. He was a district judge and congressman and in every place acquitted himself well. He was a good citizen and although he has been dead many years his name is frequently mentioned. He was an old soldier and he was in demand as a speaker in all G. A. R. encampments. He was a great orator and he had a wonderful faculty of holding an audience spellbound."

"Mrs. Hanback was known to all the older and many of the younger generation in Lawrence where she resided with her daughter during the last years of her life. She was a woman of strong character and her death recalls that most of the stalwart men and women who made Kansas glorious by their pioneering have passed over the other side."

"A message received in Lawrence today announced the death of Mrs. Hester A. Hanback in Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Hanback passed away this morning following a stroke of apoplexy which she experienced Sunday night."

"Mrs. Hanback was the widow of Judge Lewis Hanback, staff officer for General Sheridan during the Civil War. He was identified with the early history of this state, having been at one time, member of congress from the sixth district. He practiced law in Topeka for twenty-five years. Mrs. Hanback was a member of the Woman's Kansas Day Club and was a loyal Kansan."

"Mrs. Hanback passed her sixtieth birthday the 15th of this month. She has been in Los Angeles during the past fifteen months."

Vorhees.

William Vorhees, aged 67 years, died Saturday morning at 4:45 o'clock at his residence, six miles south of the city.

The deceased was born in New Jersey, June 12, 1846, a son of James and June Vorhees. He was married to Sarah Gaston, Nov. 2, 1869, at Pluckemin, N. J., with two children, Hugh T., at home, and Mrs. Lena May Coultas, survive. Two sisters, Mrs. Annie Eliza Wimmer of St. Louis and Mrs. Jennie Lancaster of Peoria, also survive. Mr. Vorhees had been a resident of Illinois for the past forty-six years and was a man who was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends. He was a member of the Brooklyn M. E. church. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Brooklyn Methodist church, in charge of Rev. H. S. Aikine and interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Stoffel.

Friends here received information of the death of Mrs. Peter Stoffel in Springfield Saturday. No particulars were given. The funeral it is understood has been fixed for Tuesday.

BALKAN SUITS IN BLUE, TAN AND SHEPHERD'S PLaid, $20 AND $25. SPECIAL FOR MONDAY, $17.50. STRAUSS' EMPORIUM.

MATRIMONIAL

Schofield-Angelo.

Friends here received word of the marriage of Curtis Schofield and Miss Robertine Angelo, which took place Easter Sunday at the home of the groom's uncle, W. H. Schofield in Los Angeles, Calif. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. It will be remembered that the bride and her mother, Mrs. Polly Angelo went out to California a short time ago. Mr. Schofield is the son of G. W. Schofield, who for a great many years was a resident of Jacksonville but is now living in Brown, Kern county, California. Both the bride and groom are graduates of the high school with the class of 1910 and are most favorably known by a wide circle of friends who will wish them every happiness in their new home on a ranch located near Brown, California.

EXHIBITION CAR

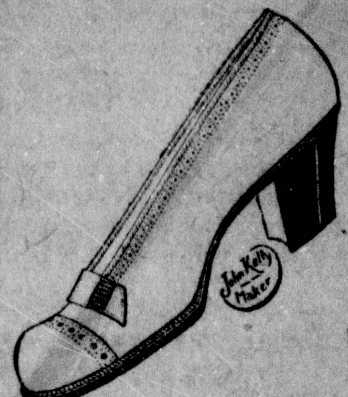

ATTRACTS MANY VISITORS
Many Jacksonville citizens visited the exhibition car of the Great Northern railway which was parked Saturday near the C. P. station. The car is out on an educational mission, to show the people what the great northwest can produce. To those who had never visited that section of the United States and interested in all kinds of grain, fruit and various products of the soil the exhibition was a rare treat. No expense has been spared in equipping the car and the display is one of the finest ever seen on wheels. In the display there were 36 potatoes from Redmond, Oregon, which weighed 100 pounds. There was also a pumpkin which weighed 140 pounds and a banana musk melon more than 30 inches long. The various fruits were of unusual excellence and the vegetable line together with all sorts of grain and delicious apples of all kinds kept the visitors interested. Courteous treatment was accorded all and literature telling of the free government lands of Montana, Washington and Oregon was distributed.

RELIEF MONEY SUBSCRIBED

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MARCH 29.—Contributions of $1,000 by the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., to assist in the relief of the Ohio flood sufferers was announced here today by John H. Sikes, grand secretary of the order. The money has already been sent to Ohio by John Eden Jennings of Sullivan, grand master in Illinois. Mr. Jennings has issued a call to the Illinois lodges for more funds and it is thought a large sum will be raised within a few days.

STREET CAR JUMPED TRACK.
A street car on the North Main street line left the rails about four o'clock Saturday afternoon. The motorman was driving northward and the car was almost across the Wabash when it left the track. There is quite a grade there and before the car stopped it had rolled its way beyond the sidewalk and was headed well into the vacant lot north of the Swift & Co. plant.

TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL PROPOSITION FAILS

Question Submitted to People of Murrayville is Voted Down With 110 For and 130 Against New Educational Move.

The township high school proposition, which came up for a vote Saturday at Murrayville, was lost by a vote of 139 to 110. It was thought by those posted on the territory, which was included in the new township organization, that the vote would be larger. Naturally most of the people in Murrayville favored the proposition and those in the country were against it, the taxation being heavier on the larger farm owners. Considerable discussion resulted from the new educational movement and in the discussion some phases of proposition were brought out which had not been clearly known before. The voting was held at the Murrayville High school building and the bad condition of the roads cut the voting down not a little. The judges were Gilbert Masters, John T. Warcup and S. A. Bracewell. It is understood that the lines of the proposed district will be changed and another election held.

SUCCESSFUL BLACKSMITH WORKER.

Jerry Leary, who is conducting a large and successful blacksmith shop at Arnold, has been in that business for a great many years. For a quarter of a century he was in business on West Morgan street the greater part of the time for himself and for seven years in charge of a shop belonging to R. Walton. Afterward Mr. Leary engaged in business elsewhere and for several years he has been located at Arnold. He recently installed the latest equipment for disc grinding, polishing and grinding rolling cutters and plows and his shop is certainly the place to get the very best work in general blacksmithing of any kind.
